SAYS TEDDY NEVER DRANK OR SWORE

Witness Says That No One Would Dare Utter Obscene Word in Roosevelt's Presence

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 29.—Geo. Shiras, host of Theodore Roosevelt, who is suing George A. Newett for libel in the Marquette court with the plaintiff and defendant is receiving a heavy mail every day owing to the prominence given the case in the newspapers.

Those to Mr. Shiras are mostly begging letters, probably inspired by pictures of his big home here. One of them asked him for money to pay an instalment on a farm. Those to Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Newett for the most part are full of advice as to how the case should be properly conducted.

Additional witnesses for the plaintiff will be heard today. Tomorrow, Memorial day, will be observed as a holiday. Col. Roosevelt has under consideration a pressing invitation to address the veterans.

Charles William Thompson of New York, for nine years, a Washington correspondent and since 1898 a political writer for a New York newspaper, was the first witness today.

"As Washington correspondent," he said, "I used to go to the White House to see Mr. Roosevelt. I saw him usually alone, sometimes in the morning and sometimes in the afternoon. I never detected the smell of liquor on his breath; never saw him in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor and never saw his manner in any way changed from its ordinary one."

"Ever go on any trips with him?"

"I was with him on his 11,000 mile swing around the circle last year, which lasted a month. I afterward joined him at Mercy hospital, Chicago, when he was shot; stayed there until he went to Oyster bay; went there with him and stayed there until election. Two weeks after he was shot in Milwaukee he went to New York on two occasions to address large mass meetings and I went with him and reported them."

"On these trips did you see much of him?"

"I saw him constantly—all hours of the day and night and never saw him take a drink or appear to be affected by liquor. Whenever he left the car I followed him."

"Did you ever see him take a drink?"

Drunk at Dinners

"Only at dinners of the Gridiron club, when he had a glass of champagne in front of him. He would occastonally take a sip from it. Nearly all the time, though, he was too busy talking or watching the stunts performed. He always made a speech on these occasions and they were among the best he ever made. He always left the dinners when they were about half over to go back to the White House to his work."

Asked whether there had been any discussion in Washington of his drinking habits, the witness replied:

"I never heard it discussed during the seven years that he was there. If it were discussed it must have been outside of Washington and it was my business to know every rumor that was floating around in that city. It was what I was there for."

"Could he have got drunk on the train without you knowing it?"

"He could not have been even slightly affected by liquor without my knowing it either on the trip or at Oyster Bay."

The witness testified that on the trip to San Francisco the railroad, by order of the colonel's representatives, did not put the usual stock of liquors aboard the private car.

Mr. Thompson testified that during interviews with the then president they would sit side by side or if standing the president would put a hand on his shoulder.

Never Used Profanity

Mr. Pound asked him if Col. Roosevelt ever used profanity.

"Never."

"Did he ever use obscene language?"

"No one would dare to utter an obscene word in his presence."

On cross examination Attorney Belden asked Mr. Thompson:

"Do you know if the plaintiff keeps a stock of liquor at his home?"

"A stock of liquor is always kept at the White House by every—"

"I mean at his own home," interposed the lawyer.

"As to that, I do not know."

Andrew Abele of Irontown, Ohio, a former coal miner and later a locomotive fireman described a trip he made with Colonel Roosevelt up Lookout mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., in October, 1909.

The witness said he became acquainted with the colonel at the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Chattanooga. Later he met him at Huntington, W. Va.

"How was it you came to go up the mountain?"

PROBATE COURT

Hearing on Will of Julia McCarty at the Local Court House This Morning

A hearing in the case of David E. Lunergan and John J. McCarty, executors of the will of Julia McCarty, vs. Dr. James J. McCarty was held in the uncontested probate court room this morning before Joseph Wiggin, Esq. of Boston as master. The plaintiffs were represented by John F. Cronan, Esq. and Francis M. Phelan, Esq. of Boston while Albert S. Howard, Esq. and William F. Curtin, Esq. of Lowell conducted the defense.

The suit is one of equity in which the plaintiffs seek to recover a large amount of property, both personal and real, alleged by them to have been secreted by Dr. McCarty, the defendant, from his mother, Julia McCarty, of whose will the plaintiffs are executors. The defense maintains that there was no such secretion. The hearing occupied the entire morning and adjourned for recess at half past twelve o'clock.

Brown Case

The case of Brown vs. city of Lowell was called in the jury waived session this afternoon.

GRAND ARMY AND CIVIC SOCIETIES TO HONOR HEROIC DEAD BY PARADE AND DECORATION OF GRAVES

With the advent of spring come thoughts of Memorial day, a day of memory as unique as it is beautiful. At a season when nature is fairest and sweetest, and the promise that seed time and harvest shall not fail is again renewed in a land of beauty and plenty and peace, we pause for a day to consider the sacrifice which made us what we are, and to express in flowers, as it were, our gratitude to the heroes who sleep beneath the mounds hallowed by their dust. As we twine the dainty blossoms into garlands we are uplifted and strengthened, by the memory of what they did, and feel that we, too, can consecrate ourselves anew to the service of the country and of the vast brotherhood of which we are part and which includes all mankind.

Tomorrow will be Decoration day and a little extra is being done this year to add to the spirit and reverence of the occasion. The daughters and grand-daughters of veterans will take part in the parade and, by request of Mayor O'Donnell, the police will turn out as escort in full dress uniform.

Stores, public buildings, mills and factories will close and the voice of industry will be hushed as the workers fare forth on their errands of love, and whether to some imposing city of the dead, or to some lowly mound in God's acre in a secluded village, each takes of his best, for is not love the grandest thing in the world?

Foremost to claim our attention are the veterans of the long-ago time when the national life was imperilled. Fifty years have changed the boys of the sixties, and as they place their tributes over the hearts of their comrades of yore, visions of the past rise before their fading sight, and they are young again.

The one thing we notice most of all is that each year the line grows shorter, and were it left to these men the beautiful custom of strewing flowers would soon wane, but as one by one they pass, their places are taken by scores of younger men and women who will not suffer their memories to be forgotten. A younger generation of veterans is also seen participating in the observance of Memorial day, and to many of them the day has a double meaning, for while they do honor to their comrades, many of them are also the sons of the soldiers of the Civil war.

Most encouraging of all is the fact that the children, the little citizens of the future, are being taught the meaning of Memorial day. In the schools, today, a portion of time was set apart for appropriate exercises and at some of the schools gray-haired veterans were privileged to address the children. They told the story o'er and o'er again—the story that gains in sublimity and significance with the passing years. Everywhere patriotic workers are alert to the wealth of meaning which the season symbolizes, and the continuance of the exquisite custom is assured.

BROWN CASE GOES TO GRAND JURY IN JUNE

Dist. Attorney Higgins Intends to Submit Case—No Further Investigation Necessary

A Sun representative yesterday questioned District Attorney John J. Higgins with reference to the case of Mayor James E. O'Donnell vs. Commissioner George H. Brown, the mayor charging Mr. Brown with having exceeded his appropriations in the street department in 1912. Asked as to the time of investigation, the district attorney said, "I shall in all probability take the case to the grand jury in June."

The district attorney said that the papers and copies of the records forming the chief evidence in the case had been sent to him and that consequently no further investigation of the case shall be carried on here, for none is necessary. In a letter to Mr. Higgins, Mayor O'Donnell advised him that the best and most complete information may be obtained from the city auditor, Charles D. Paige, and further that if he (the district attorney) preferred to send an expert accountant here, it would not take more than two days to establish the facts as alleged. However, according to the statements of Mr. Higgins in the interview of yesterday, it would appear that he deems an investigation of this kind here unnecessary and he said that all that is required is to have the papers and records enumerated by the mayor in his letter, sent to him. These include a transcript of the records of the city clerk of the city of Lowell in which are set forth the amounts of money to be expended by the commissioner in charge of the street department for the year 1912, a copy of an order adopted by the municipal council at its meeting on May 20, 1913, and a copy of the records of the meeting of the municipal council of May 14, 1913, setting forth the list of unpaid bills of the street department for 1912. All of the foregoing, the mayor stated in the communication of last week, tend to bear out the general charges.

John J. McClure represented the libellant in this case.

Boy's Foot Badly Crushed

Samuel Jones, who resides at No. 7 Cady street, had his right foot badly crushes this morning about 10 o'clock while working at his employment in the Middlesex mills. The ambulance was summoned immediately and the injured man was removed to the Lowell hospital, where his injury was treated. Fortunately no bones were broken, the principal wound being a six-inch laceration on the top of the foot. The injury is not considered serious by the hospital authorities.

AT SUPERIOR COURT

The Case of Coughlin vs. Swain Still on Trial

In the superior civil court session which reopened at half past nine this morning, the defense in the case of Coughlin & Swain put on witnesses. The case arose out of alleged misrepresentations by the defendant in the sale of some land in Wilmington to Mr. Coughlin. The defense placed on the stand several witnesses, including Mr. Kelley and Mr. Burroughs, real estate men, and several others. The first two in the course of their testimony spoke of the condition, location and value of the land in question and estimated its value throughout at $40 per acre. They were examined directly by Mr. William Wilson of McIntyre and Wilson who represent the defense and District Attorney Higgins who appears for the plaintiff, cross-examined them.

There were two divorce cases. The first was that of Slaris vs. Slaris, on grounds of desertion, and in this case the libelee defaulted by non appearance. A. D. Hamel for the libellant.

The other divorce suit was that of Harriet Good vs. Henry Good, brought on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and intoxication and in this case also the libelee defaulted. Attorney

WHOM WILL THE PRINCE OF WALES MARRY?

ALL ENGLAND ASKS AND MENTIONS NAMES

PRINCE of WALES PLAYING GOLF — GRAND DUCHESS TATIANA

LONDON, May 29.—Whom will the Prince of Wales marry? All England is beginning to ask this question seriously, now that the heir to the throne is quite a man. The names of Princess Elizabeth of Roumania, the pretty daughter of the crown prince of that country, and of the Grand Duchess Tatiana of Russia have been mentioned by the court gossips. It is said that the former is favored by King George and Queen Mary and the latter by the dowager Queen Alexandra, the grand duchess being her grandniece. Princess Elizabeth is second cousin of the crown prince. Some say that bitterness has been engendered by the royal matchmakers. The name of Princess Olga, daughter of the czar, has also been mentioned.

SAVED ENGINEER'S LIFE

McCabe Took Mercury Tablets a Week Ago

DETROIT, May 29.—Thomas McCabe, a Detroit engineer who swallowed ten grains of bichloride of mercury a week ago, has fully recovered.

A solution of bicarbonate of soda injected into his veins by Dr. Andrew Sherman saved the life of the engineer, who took the poison because Charles B. Sanders Walker of Macon, Ga., said that death from its effects was painless.

"I believe that when this preparation is used in such cases a large per cent of them would be saved," said Dr. Sherman. "Injections can be made in any vein. I made eight punctures in all, the injections being given every five or six hours. Fourteen drachms of bicarbonate of soda in three pints of normal water was used. The thing of most importance in administering the treatment is to be certain the solution is absolutely aseptic, otherwise the patient would be killed by it."

After swallowing the poison and suffering intense agony McCabe decided he wanted to live and aided the physician in every way possible.

TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

Between Turkey and the Balkan Allies

LONDON, May 29.—It is practically certain that the treaty of peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies is to be signed at the foreign office by the peace delegates of the various states concerned tomorrow. Bulgaria and Turkey have definitely decided to sign the document in deference to the wishes of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and there is little doubt that the other three allies, Servia, Greece and Montenegro, will do likewise. Greece and Servia desire to add a protocol to the treaty as drafted by the European powers dealing with the question of amnesty and the conventions to be negotiated after peace shall have been concluded.

In Servia the speech made by the Servian premier yesterday in the parliament at Belgrade, when he explained that Servia desired a modification of the treaty with Bulgaria regarding the division of territory, is believed to have destroyed the hope of a peaceful settlement of the Servian and Bulgarian dispute.

The principal Servian peace delegation at London at noon today received a despatch from his government authorizing him to sign the preliminary treaty of peace with Turkey.

Tong Men Sign Treaty

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Hip Sings, the On Leongs and the Four Brothers—warring Tongs of Chinatown—signed a treaty of peace yesterday afternoon. Representatives of the three Tongs met in the chamber of Judge Foster of the court of general sessions.

Why Isaacs Resigned

LONDON, May 29.—The Jewish Express today states that Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, tendered his resignation on account of the controversy over the transactions by him and chancellor of the exchequer, Lloyd George in Marconi shares but that Premier Asquith declined to accept it.

ATTORNEYS CLASH AT WOOD TRIAL

Important Witnesses Heard—Case Adjourned Till Monday to Examine Books

BOSTON, May 29.—Orville Reddig, the chauffeur formerly employed by William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, appeared in court today when the trial of Wood, Frederick E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, charged with conspiracy to injure the cause of the textile strikers of Lawrence by "planting" dynamite, was resumed. Previous efforts of the state to locate Reddig had failed.

The presence of the much desired witness was disclosed in the testimony of the first witness, James R. Bailey, Jr., who when asked when he had last seen Reddig replied:

"I see him now."

"Do you mean to say you see him in this courtroom at the present time," exclaimed District Attorney Pelletier in apparent astonishment.

"Yes, sir."

Reddig Called to Stand

The prosecutor located the chauffeur among the spectators and a few moments later called him to the stand.

The state has repeatedly intimated an intention to establish, if the man could be found, that Reddig drove one of Wood's autos on a mysterious errand the night of January 19, 1912, when the dynimate was "planted."

Bailey, who was in charge of the American Woolen Co.'s end of the strike and who had testified earlier in the trial, said that he attended the conference of millmen at Wood's and over home on the night of January 19, 1912, at which Atteaux was also present. When he left he took with him copies of letters to the Lawrence newspapers and to Father Milanese, an Italian priest at Lawrence, in which the company's position was set forth over Wood's signature. He was quite sure that neither Charles E. Boivin, another chauffeur employed by Wood or Reddig drove him from Andover to Lawrence. He did not see Collins, with whom the defendants are alleged to have conspired, John J. Breen and E. W. Pitman that night. He returned to Andover some time after midnight and slept at Wood's house. He had no conference with Wood. The next morning he went back to Lawrence.

"Did Reddig drive you to Lawrence in the morning?" asked the district attorney.

"He did not," answered Bailey.

After John Hogg, a director of the Woolen company, had testified he did not know Charles Hardy, an official of the company, and had no information concerning his whereabouts, the district attorney called Reddig.

Reddig Testifies

Reddig said he had not been in Wood's employ since last November, although he occupied a house on Wood's Andover estate. Questioned regarding his whereabouts during the past three days while the police have been trying to serve a summons on him Reddig said he had been motoring through southern New Hampshire looking over the territory preparatory to opening a garage.

He recalled his movements on the night of Jan. 19, 1912. He remembered the date, he said, because it was his birthday. That evening he drove Atteaux in a touring car from Boston to Andover. He spent the night at his own home. He did not take out his car the next morning, so far as he could remember.

After the witness had told of visiting New York, Muskegon, Mich., Detroit and Toledo, returning to Andover on Saturday the district attorney questioned him regarding his visit to Concord on Monday. Reddig said he stopped at the Eagle hotel, but did not write his address on the hotel register.

"Did you write your name?" he was asked.

"Part of it," he replied.

"Why didn't you write your whole name," asked the prosecutor.

"The clerk told me there were no rooms left."

"But you said you stopped at the Eagle house?"

"I did but it was at the Eagle house annex, which is a separate building farther down the street."

This ended Reddig's testimony and John E. White, desk manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. took the stand.

Mr. Pelletier asked the witness to give the record of the two numbers shown by the toll ticket to have been made on a certain date but Judge John C. Crosby excluded the question, although the district attorney said he only meant to show what offices were connected and not who talked at either end.

The jury was excused while the district attorney informed the court that he wished to offer the telephone ticket to show that on the forenoon of January 19, 1912, a telephone connection was made between the office of Atteaux in Boston and Pitman's office in Lawrence.

Former Congressman Samuel Powers of Wood's counsel objected to the district attorney speaking so loudly.

Attorneys Clash

"This will get into the newspapers" said Mr. Powers.

"I don't care if it does," said Mr. Pelletier, "but if the court wishes to make an order it can do so."

Judge Crosby said that the jury had been excluded and that as he had already instructed them not to read the papers he would not act.

The district attorney also said he desired to offer telephone records to show that on Jan. 18, 1912, a connection was made between the Boston offices of the woolen company and Breen's place of business at Lawrence.

The district attorney announced that two government witnesses, Francis Kittredge and George E. Bullard, both directors of the woolen company, would not be examined in court as they were in ill health and had stated under oath that they knew nothing of the whereabouts of Charles A. Hardy.

To Examine Books

Mr. Pelletier then asked that an adjournment be taken until Monday in order that an examination of the books of the American Woolen Co. might be made by his assistant at the company's offices. He also said he had hopes of being able to locate Hardy before Monday.

Judge Crosby granted the adjournment after stating that the sessions next week would begin at nine thirty in the morning and until 4.30.

POLICE OFFICER O'KEEFE

Is Suspended by Mayor O'Donnell

Mayor O'Donnell, this afternoon, submitted to the press his findings in the case of Patrolman Cornelius O'Keefe for alleged violation of Rule 19, in the arrest of one John W. Stocks. It will be remembered that Mr. Stocks brought suit against the police officer and, yesterday, withdrew the suit. The mayor finds that while the officer acted in good faith he erred in judgment and he imposes a suspension of seven days. The mayor's finding is as follows:

Mayor's Office,
Lowell, Mass.
May 29, 1913.

Redmond, Welch,
Supt. of Police,

Dear Sir: On May 8, a hearing was held before me on a charge preferred against Officer Cornelius O'Keefe, by John W. Stocks, for alleged violation of Rule 19, conduct unbecoming an officer, to which charge Officer O'Keefe pleaded not guilty.

From the evidence offered it would appear that on May 5th about midnight John W. Stocks and other men stood at or near the corner of Gorham and Winter streets. Officer O'Keefe approaching on the opposite side of the street heard one of the men accost a woman who was passing and understood her to reply: "None of your business." Crossing the street the officer ordered the men to move on and approached the man who addressed the woman, saying: "Can't a lady walk along the street without being insulted." Stocks started to explain what had happened previously whereupon the officer ordered him to go home. Stocks declined to go and the officer placed his hands upon him. Stocks remonstrated and the officer then took him to the box under arrest charging him with drunkenness. Upon appearing before Captain Atkinson, in the police station, Stocks who was not drunk was immediately released. Stocks stated furthermore that the officer in making the arrest assaulted him, and showed bruises on his head and face to bear out his statement.

Evidence was also presented to the effect that several complaints have been made to the police by women who were accosted and insulted while passing through that vicinity at night, and that Officer O'Keefe had been instructed to be particularly alert for such infractions of the law.

Taking into consideration the locality, the time of night and the fact that several men were assembled there, I believe that Officer O'Keefe was justified in ordering the men to move on. Mr. Stocks, who is a young man of sobriety and good habits, knowing that he was innocent of any wrongdoing, resented the officer's peremptory order to go home, and expostulated, his manner probably leading the officer to believe that he had been drinking.

Had Mr. Stocks obeyed the officer's instruction, undoubtedly the arrest would not have been made, while if Mr. Stocks felt that he was being ill-treated he could have sought redress from the proper authorities.

The police officer is the friend and protector of the public rather than its enemy. He wears a uniform in order that all may know he is the guardian of the community's peace and as such is vested with more powers than the ordinary citizen. As an officer, his orders should be respected. If he errs, the law, and the rules of the police department, offer ample opportunity for redress.

In this case I find that Officer O'Keefe acted in good faith but erred in judgment, and used more force than was necessary in making the arrest. It seems from the reports and messages received by me from citizens, taxpayers and merchants in the district covered by Officer O'Keefe, that he has been a particularly efficient officer, while I have also been informed that Mr. Stocks is disposed to be lenient toward him, and has withdrawn the criminal proceedings instituted by him against the officer. With all of these facts in mind, I am disposed to overlook his error of judgment in making the arrest, but hereby impose a suspension for seven days for using undue force.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor and Commissioner of Public Safety.

NEVER PLANNED BIG MONOPOLY

Judge Gary, Chairman of Steel Corporation, Testifies Neither He Nor Morgan Considered it

NEW YORK, May 29.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation and the man who conducted many of the negotiations which led to its organization, declared on the witness stand yesterday that neither he, the late J. P. Morgan nor anybody else concerned had ever in the course of these negotiations discussed the question of obtaining a monopoly in the steel industry or of suppressing competition.

Judge Gary was testifying as a witness for the defense in the hearings of the suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The witness spent the entire day in a detailed recital of the circumstances which led to the formation of the corporation and endeavored to show that the sole purpose that actuated its organizers was to obtain "a rounded-out, self-contained, proposition, complete in every phase of manufacture from the mining of ore to the production of diversified finished products in the mills with the ability to reduce costs to the most economical basis and particularly to develop an export trade.

"Our effort," he said emphatically, "has been to extend trade and to foster competition and we have done that."

With equal emphasis, Judge Gary denied that the steel corporation had been over-capitalized as alleged by the government. The various properties acquired "were all worth the price that was paid for them," he declared, while the ore properties of the Lake Superior Consolidated iron mines, John D. Rockefeller's concern, were obtained, "it has since been proved, at a very low price," he said. He denied that the Federal Steel company, the nucleus around which the corporation was found, was a monopoly in itself, as alleged by the government, and called attention to the fact that when the Federal and some of the other steel companies, now subsidiaries of the corporation, were investigated by the industrial commission of congress in 1899 no complaint was entered against them by the department of justice or any other branch of the government.

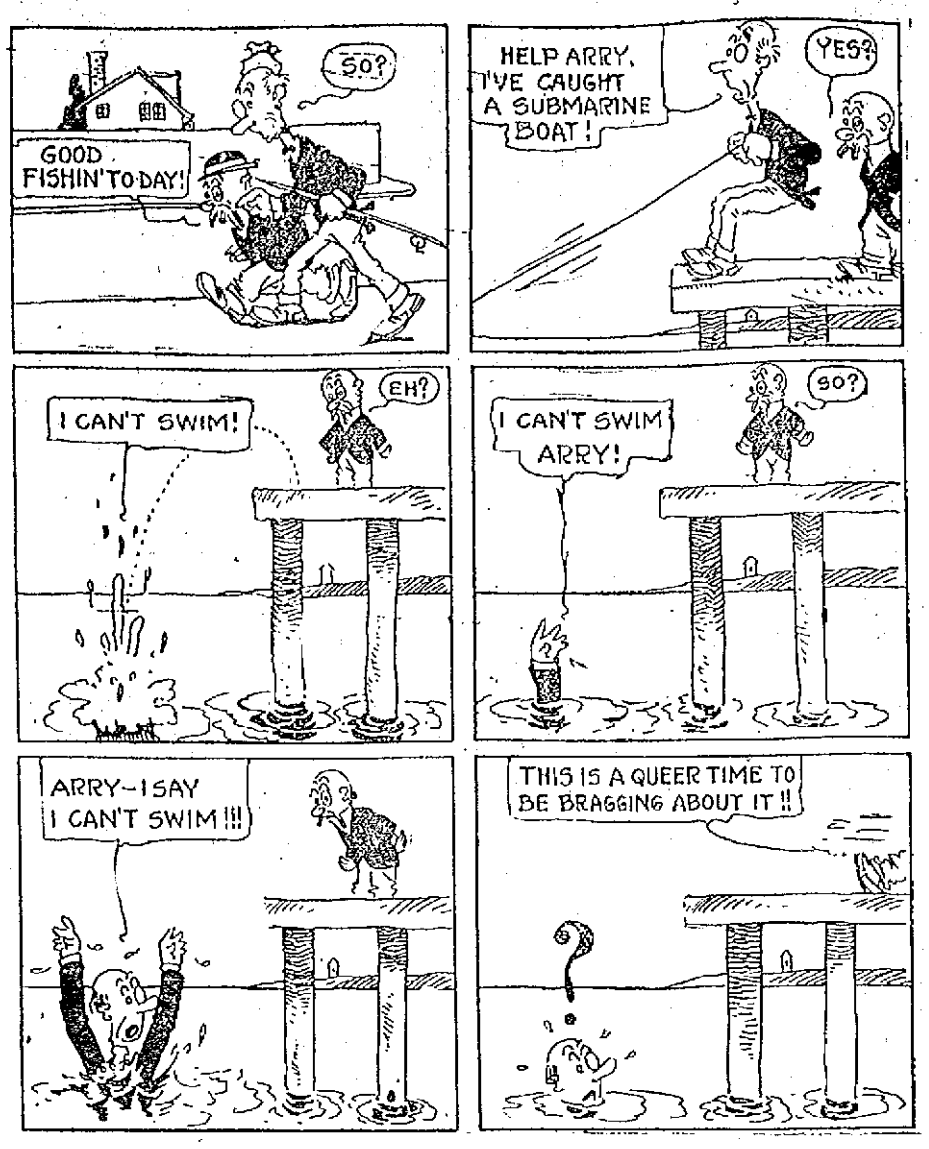

"If all these subsidiaries were monopolies when taken over, as alleged, were you aware of it?" asked R. V. Lindabury, the corporation attorney.

"I was not. I had personal knowledge that the companies that went into the American Steel and Wire company had been in competition but I did not regard it a monopoly. We did not take over any of these companies on the theory that they were monopolies or that through their instrumentality we could restrain trade."

The organization of the corporation was precipitated, Judge Gary said, by the desire of the Federal Steel company, J. P. Morgan flotation to perfect a "rounded out" organization. This opportunity came when Andrew Carnegie offered to sell the Carnegie Steel company.

The Federal had previously refused several proffers of the Carnegie Steel company and had attempted to raise $40,000,000 to build new plants of its own. The attempt was abandoned, he said, when Charles M. Schwab outlined to Mr. Morgan the advantages of acquiring a then existing property. Mr. Morgan was "impressed" and called in the directors of the Federal Steel company.

Judge Gary described the meeting of the directors at Mr. Morgan's office and laid emphasis on the financier's desire to know whether it "was a good business proposition" and that nothing concerning the suppression of competition was said.

If He Lives He'll Get Even for This

IT'S ALL SMILES NOW FOR FORMER HELEN GOULD AND HER HUSBAND

NEW YORK, May 29.—This is one of the best pictures ever taken of Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard. Mrs. Shepard was formerly Miss Helen Gould. Recently back from Europe, where they spent their honeymoon, the Shepards attended a garden party at Governors island, New York. They were in merry mood when snapped. It was the first time Mrs. Shepard ever willingly faced the snapshot camera. She had always been strongly averse to being photographed and generally turned her head or shielded her face when she saw a photographer approaching. Mr. Shepard, on the contrary, willingly let the camera men get him at the time of his wedding, and it was suggested that perhaps his attitude had resulted in changing his wife's dislike.

BOSTON, May 29.—The annual field day and parade of the Boston high schools was held today. In the morning 3300 cadets marched through the streets.

THREE PAIRS OF TWINS

Clog the Machinery of Scranton Court

SCRANTON, Pa., May 29.—Three pairs of twins which the stork delivered in a South Scranton neighborhood Tuesday night have clogged the machinery of Alderman James Moll's court. The mothers are important witnesses in a slander suit which the alderman was to try and in their absence he yesterday continued the suit indefinitely.

All the parties to the suit live in the same block. Mrs. Joseph Savage charged that she was slandered by Mrs. Joseph Slidage in the presence of several women of the neighborhood, among whom were Mrs. Ellen O'Boyle, Mrs. Hannah Boyd and Mrs. Margaret Stanton. It was to the latter three that the stork was so generous.

Knights of Columbus Notes

A number of the members of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus gathered in the headquarters in the Associate building last evening and after some discussion voted to engage a special car to take them to Haverhill tonight where they will attend a reception and entertainment by Haverhill council. The car will leave Merrimack Square at half past six. A large number have already signified their intention of going. The baseball team of the council managed by Roger Lang, will cross bats with the Haverhill council team on Friday afternoon and a good game is expected.

The council has begun moving into their new quarters in Anne street and this work will be completed by Saturday at the latest. A large part of the furnishings have already been transferred to the new building and the remainder is ready to be moved today and tomorrow.

Masonic Precedents Broken

LANSING, May 29.—Masonic precedents extending back to the very foundations of the order were broken yesterday when Mrs. Minnie Keyes, grand worthy matron of the order of the Eastern Star of Michigan was permitted to address the grand lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, at its annual convention.

Mrs. Keyes is the first woman in the history of masonry, it is said, to be admitted to speak at a meeting of a grand lodge.

She made an appeal for funds to establish an orphanage for children of deceased members of the order.

WILLIAM BARNES, JR.

High Repubs. Demand His Resignation

NEW YORK, May 29.—William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the state republican committee, who is among the most prominent regular republican workers of the country, faced trouble when a number of well known men high in the councils of the party in the state asked for his resignation. They held that Barnes was not the proper leader at this critical time in the history of the party in the Empire State. Barnes refused to get out, and a pretty fight was looked for. Barnes was one of the leading figures in the convention fight at Chicago last summer.

AT COLONIAL HALL

A. E. Brown's Pupils Gave Fine Recital Last Night—Affair Largely Attended

A pretty recital was given in Colonial hall last night by the pupils of Mr. Albert Edmund Brown. The hall was literally filled with lovers of music, despite the heavy downpour of rain, and at the close of the evening Mr. Brown was highly complimented for the ability of his pupils.

Mr Brown's name did not appear on the program, but at the request of many he sang the "Bedouin Love Song," and this was rendered in such fine voice that he was forced to respond to an encore.

Those who took part were as follows:

Miss Margaret Octavia Peterson, Miss Katherine Darracott, Miss Belle T. Libby, Mr. Willard R. Henderson, Miss Elizabeth F. Warren, Miss Jessie P. Haskell, Mrs. W. A. Shaffer, Miss Gertrude M. Quigley, Mr. John H. Thompson, Mrs. Frank P. McCartin, Miss Irene Wardell, Miss Georgia Libby, Mr. V. J. Benoit, Miss Jessie P. Richardson, Misses Georgia and Belle Libby, Miss Rena J. Landers, Miss Lena M. Bowen, Miss Loretta Mirault, Mr. Thomas Parkinson.

Mrs. Brown accompanied on the piano and her work was very commendable.

MAN OF MANY WIDOWS

Fifth Woman Asserts She Married Morrison

CHICAGO, May 29.—A fifth woman appeared last night in the strange case of the late Homer Edward Morrison, man of many widows. She is Miss Eleanor Ostrander, who asserts she was to have married Morrison yesterday as W. E. Morrison. Morrison, who died just a week ago, left three widows and two fiances to mourn him and the police believe there are other women who are mourning him as husband or betrothed.

Miss Ostrander told relatives she met Morrison six years ago and during that time he took her to many places of amusement and gave her several substantial presents. Before Morrison began courting Miss Ostrander he had two wives. Two years after he began to pay her attentions he married again. He also found time to pay his respects to another woman, a widow who says she was to have married him next month. She gave Morrison $1600. Miss Ostrander is the only woman of the five who does not claim to have given Morrison considerable sums.

Collector of Port of Boston

BOSTON, May 29.—Joseph B. Russell, who has been selected for appointment as collector of the port of Boston, said last night:

"I withdrew from consideration as a candidate for the post of collector when my name was first mentioned some time ago. I have made no statement otherwise since that time and I am still doubtful as to whether I shall accept the position."

Mr. Russell is a former president of the Boston chamber of commerce and a brother of the late Gov. William E. Russell.

LONG LINE OF BIG PIPE

New Main From Dutton St. to Princeton

About 4800 feet of the 7150 feet of 16-inch pipe, representing the new main, and extending from Dutton street, near the entrance to the Saco-Lowell shops to the corner of Princeton and Wilder streets, has been laid and Commissioner Barrett expects that the service will be ready for use by July 1. The main will be completed up to the corner of Broadway and Wilder this week and the distance from that point to the corner of Princeton and Wilder streets will be about 2350 feet. About 125 men have been employed on the job and are employed at the present time. The work was begun March 26, at the corner of Fletcher and Worthen streets, the section from the entrance to the Saco-Lowell shops in Dutton street to Fletcher street having been completed last fall.

New Dwelling

Mrs. H. Francis Clark has been granted a permit for the erection of a dwelling at 556 Westford street. The building will be 33 by 28 feet, two and one-half stories, eight rooms, pantry, bath and hall. The estimated cost is $2100.

Cook Wells Again

Com. Barrett announced yesterday that the Cook wells would be re-opened today. The wells will not be put in operation for general use, however, until about the second week in June, as it is not considered safe to use the water when the wells are first opened.

Big Deluge Gun

The fire department has a big "deluge gun" that has not been used since Hector was a pup and Fire Chief Saunders is going to give it a tryout. The gun remained rusted and cob-webbed in the Pawtucketville fire house for about 20 years, and, so far as is known, the water shooter was used only once in all that time. The last time it was used was at the Parker block fire. That was about ten years ago and nobody knows how many men or cinders the deluge gun killed that night. It was heard to belch, and was seen to belch, but no record was ever made of the dead and wounded. The gun is now at the Central fire station keeping guard over the Elk's cat and her kittens.

FOR APPOINTMENT OF ASSESSORS

Bill by Tax Commissioner is Rejected—Rep. Jewett on Republican Legislative Committee

Rep. Victor Francis Jewett, of this city, at a meeting of the republican legislative campaign committee, held yesterday afternoon, was made one of the six members of the executive committee.

The assessors' bill to provide that assessors in cities and towns shall be appointed subject to confirmation by the tax commissioner was rejected in the house yesterday afternoon by a vote of 108 to 28.

The house passed the bill providing for an appropriation of $250,000 for the Massachusetts exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exhibition. Attempts were made to cut the appropriation to $150,000, but there was nothing doing.

In the senate Senator Fisher of Westford moved to amend the bill relative to contracting marriages by providing that it shall not take effect till January 1, 1914. The amendment was adopted and the bill, as amended, was passed to be engrossed. Senator Fisher said that his amendment will prevent any interference with the making of annual reports.

Under the bill the parties to the contract are required to make oath to the city or town clerk who issues the license that there are no legal impediments to such marriage. Whoever falsely swears shall be punished under the statute governing perjury.

Tenement House Bill

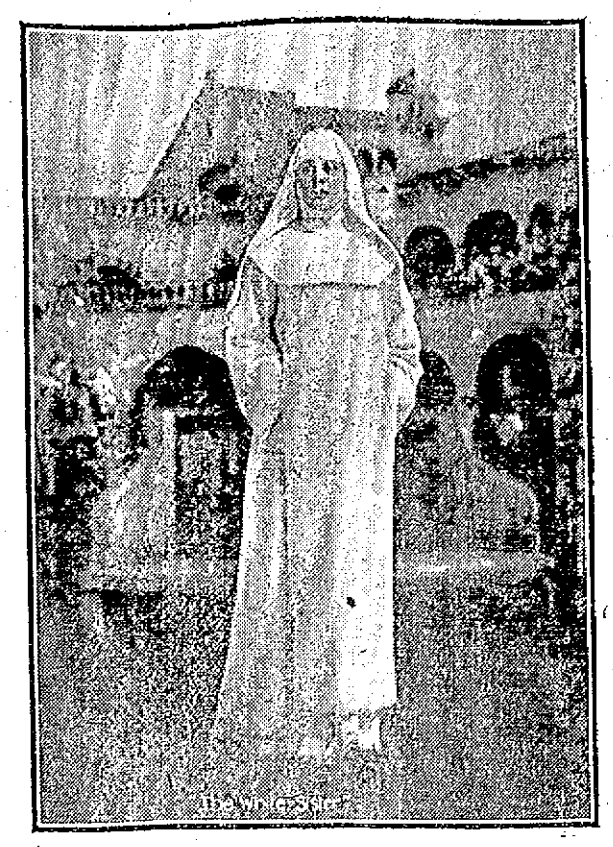

Senator Bazeley moved to amend the tenement house bill for cities to provide that it shall take effect the first day of October, 1913. The amendment was adopted and the bill engrossed.

Senator Allen of Melrose had taken from the table the bill to provide for the construction of a tunnel and subway from Sullivan square through Everett and Malden. He stated he would offer a redraft of the bill to be printed and consideration was put over to the next session.

Senator Fisher had the enactment of the bill for an investigation of the service of street railway companies reconsidered to put on an amendment that such investigation be limited to street railways in the metropolitan park district. The amendment was adopted and sent to the house for its concurrence.

To Build Cup Defender

BRISTOL, R. I., May 29.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer of many successful defenders of the America's cup will probably build a candidate for the defense of the cup next year against Sir Thomas Lipton, and a syndicate made up of former Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, C. Oliver Iselin and some of the other older members of the New York Yacht club will furnish the funds. That Mr. Herreshoff has expressed a willingness to accept a commission from the syndicate was learned last night on his return from New York after a long conference requested by members of the New York Yacht club who have been prominent in financing other cup racers.

"THE WHITE SISTER,"

In Which Grace Young and Company are Appearing at the Merrimack Square Theatre This Week.

Merrimack Square Theatre

Some of the largest crowds which have ever visited the Merrimack Square theatre since its formal opening have witnessed the performances of the most enjoyable play, "The White Sister" there this week. It contains many good roles all of which are capably handled by the company while Miss Grace Young in the title role is par excellence.

Next week is to be the last of their offerings until fall and for their "good-by" play, Manager Carroll has selected a gripping and sensational drama in four acts called "A Young Wife." It is a story of New York life in which love, hate and intrigue run riot and has an abundance of wholesome comedy which should appeal to all. For week June 9 a vaudeville bill of unusual merit is being arranged.

B. OF R. T. CONVENTION

Vote to Change Insurance Methods

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in convention here yesterday approved a change in the organization's insurance methods. All policies hereafter will be paid in full when the holders reach the age of 70. Proposals to adopt a form of paid-up insurance, such as that offered by regular companies, and also to make the loss of one eye total disability, was defeated.

A new policy for $2000 available after August 1, was agreed to and the two lower grades of policies now in effect were raised $50 and $100 respectively. The increases will be added August 1.

President W. G. Lee announced last night that the convention would not vote as an organization upon the question of a strike on the eastern roads, but that a referendum vote would be taken by the lodges of the eastern division beginning June 15.

DETECTIVE FINED $125

Found Guilty of Carrying Concealed Weapon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—Robert J. Foster, a detective employed by the National Erectors' association during the investigation of the "dynamite conspiracy," was found not guilty of assaulting Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Association in criminal court here yesterday. Foster was fined $125, however, upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons and of drawing deadly weapons.

Early in the dynamite investigation Ryan alleged Foster had assaulted him and caused his arrest upon charges of trespass, assault and battery and the two charges upon which the detective was found guilty. Judge Moore in the criminal court held there was no evidence to show that Foster was trespassing at the headquarters of the iron workers nor that he had assaulted Ryan, who was the prosecuting witness against the detective.

"Spring Fever"

—a sort of "weak in the knees" feeling sometimes comes with the first warm days—

A sign of played-out nerves

It is a "let down" of nerve force, following months of high tension in resisting cold weather.

Nerves need nutrition—specialized nutrition which builds and maintains nerve cells to highest efficiency.

The vital and necessary constituents of all brain and nerve cells, are water, albumin and organic Phosphate of Potash.

Water and albumin in generous quantities are supplied in every day food.

Phosphate of Potash, on the other hand, is often lacking.

The lack of this necessary element is usually just the difference between nerve strength and nerve weakness.

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

—made of choice wheat and malted barley, contains the necessary Phosphate of Potash in true organic form. Grape-Nuts is easily digested by even the weakest stomach and its crisp, sweet, appetizing granules, served with cream, make an ideal breakfast.

Dr. Arnold Lorand

Physician to the Baths, Carlsbad, Austria,

In his recently published book, "Health Through Rational Diet," from the press of the F. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, says:

As a breakfast food another variety of the healthful cereals which are much used in America would be advantageous. Grape-Nuts, in which the floury substance has been dextrinized by long baking and thus rendered digestible and easy of assimilation, is eaten with cream and would be a useful addition to our usual breakfast.

The recommendation of this eminent European authority to the wealthiest health seekers in the world (those who frequent the famous baths of Carlsbad) is especially interesting to Americans.

While Grape-Nuts may be a "health luxury" in Europe, this sturdy health-giving food is within the reach of practically every American at trifling cost.

"THERE'S A REASON"

FOR GRAPE-NUTS

You Are SAFE When You Buy at RIKER-JAYNES

OF INTEREST TO THE CONSUMER OF CIGARS AND CIGARETTES

Take Advantage of the Cut Prices AT THE RIKER-JAYNES STORES

The American Tobacco Company has seen fit to publicly announce withdrawal of terms formerly in force in relation to Cigars and Cigarettes with the Riker-Hegeman-Jaynes Drug Stores in New York and New England.

The alleged reason for this act of the American Tobacco Company is the reduction of prices at Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores to the consumer of products owned or controlled by the American Tobacco Company.

When—a few months ago—the United Cigar Stores Company made a general indirect reduction on prices of certain Cigarettes and Imported Cigars, no opposition from the American Tobacco Company was apparent.

But when the Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores, in following out their lifelong policy, reduced Cigar and Cigarette prices to a point "as low as or a little lower than the same goods could be obtained elsewhere," coupons considered, then cut prices became a crime and the American Tobacco Company, after trying to persuade the Riker-Jaynes Stores to restore their prices to a point a little in excess of prices made on same articles by the United Cigar Stores Company (coupons considered) endeavored to force them to do so by the withdrawal of former discounts.

The Riker-Jaynes Stores can better afford to lose these discounts than to sacrifice the consumers' interest or violate the confidence of the public by abandoning a policy which forms one of the chief foundation stones of their business.

The Riker-Jaynes Stores take pleasure in notifying the public that reduced prices on Cigars and Cigarettes are still in force.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial days come and go, and with the passing of the years they lose something of the meaning that made them so significant to the people of other days. A time there was when those who will march tomorrow in faltering ranks marched in view of thousands who were fully familiar with their sacrifice and their glory; the steps that are now wavering and slow were then alert and vigorous; those who applauded them were their parents, brothers, wives and sweethearts who had seen them march forth to war and had welcomed them home victorious, and among those who applauded there were some who wept for sons who had gone to return no more.

Among those who will see them march tomorrow to decorate the graves of their comrades who have answered the roll call of eternity will be many to whom the war is only a memory, something aloof and indefinite, something that belongs to the dead past. But in the hearts of the veterans it is still a reality; each succeeding Memorial day brings it back vividly; thrilled by the solemnity of the occasion and touched by memories of the dead brothers whom they will vividly call to mind, the present will vanish and they will again rush forth in fresh enthusiasm in their splendid sacrificial patriotism to fight the battles of their country.

It is not surprising then that there has been a protest against celebrations which are alien to the character of the occasion. To many it is a day of rejoicing but to those most interested, it is a day of tragic if heroic memories. Though sport lovers will regard it as a gala occasion, there will be many who will fittingly regard it reverently as a holy day, consecrated by sublime sacrifices and the noblest of patriotic recollections.

In our enjoyment of liberty and sense of national security, let us not forget on tomorrow that we owe it largely to the men who will go with slow and thoughtful mein from graveyard to graveyard. Let us not be indifferent. Let us give them the honor that is their due. They were tried and were not found wanting when the country needed strong hands and brave hearts. Before it is too late let us show our children an object lesson in practical patriotism. Let us explain to them the meaning of the thinning lines of veterans on Memorial day to the silent camps of those who have fought the battles of life and have gone to their eternal sleep.

WALKING CLUBS

It is very singular that the modern tendency towards athletics has not popularized the splendid and beneficial habit of long walks. The advantages of such are so obvious and so generally admitted that it ought to be unnecessary to enumerate them and yet the roads stretch out in every direction with no groups of pedestrians to break their monotony. Automobiles indeed speed along the busy thoroughfares, but the crowds of young men and young women who should be walking abroad on Saturday or Sunday afternoon, or in the delightful evening time, are lounging at street corners or cooped up in the unhealthful air of congested homes or crowded club rooms.

From the merely athletic point of view walking is one of the very best exercises possible. It tones up the system, gives necessary relaxation, relieves the tension of mind which most people contract in business, gives a hearty appetite and prepares the body for sound and refreshing sleep. Besides this, it may be made a source of genuine pleasure. The man who enjoys the theatre, or moving pictures may, with a cultivated observation, see and hear sights and sounds on a walk of a few miles that no theatre can duplicate. He can go into the country where the ever changing panorama of earth and sky will delight and refresh his city-dulled senses. He can hear the sound of the winds, the murmurs of the trees, the carols of birds, the tinkling of hidden streams, and to him who has heard them and understood their harmonies, no other music can be sweeter.

Walking is an aid to the club spirit in its best sense. At no time does conversation flow more naturally than when two or more swing along with the refreshing breeze in their faces and the road stretching ahead. Thought keeps time with the feet, and the judgment and understanding become keen. It is then most desirable that in all large cities, walking clubs should be formed, not for the purpose of testing endurance or making records, but for the revival of interest in walking as a mode of real enjoyment. This is the season, and we have the material for such clubs in abundance. Our athletic societies and fraternal bodies should take the matter up. A greater appreciation of walking as an exercise and a pastime would have an immediate effect on those wise enough to avail themselves of its advantages.

TOO LATE

Wherever there has been a great public calamity the people clamor for prompt investigations that the responsibility may be fixed. This is a praiseworthy tendency but unfortunately it generally comes too late. If the promptness by which public accidents are investigated, and the perseverance by which they are conducted, were displayed before these accidents take place, much public suffering and anguish of mind would be averted. A recent case is the collapse of the municipal pier at Long Beach, California, which has cost 37 lives and injured many people.

Although the inquest may fix the responsibility for the accident and result in the punishment of those criminally negligent, its greatest and most far-reaching good will be in emphasizing the fact that though the supports were rotten in many places, the authorities were indifferent until a great calamity had held their negligence up to the gaze of the entire country. In all cities there are municipal properties which should be frequently overlooked for the public welfare. It is too late to investigate when some great calamity fills the country with horror.

CAT AND MOUSE LAW

Home Secretary McKenna's so-called "cat and mouse law" has been put into effect against Mrs. Pankhurst, and it looks like a practical solution of the problem that confronted the government with regard to the hunger strikes of the militant suffragettes. It will now be possible for the government to re-arrest a prisoner who had starved herself out of prison, and repeat the process until her term is completed. In this way suffragettes out on parole may be arrested whenever they are about to take part in any notable gathering, and their influence for violence is seriously hampered. If the suffragettes tried the patience of the government, the cat and mouse law promises to try the patience of the suffragettes. They may now find it more advisable to serve out the original sentence.

DIPHTHERIA

The fact that there are 11 cases of diphtheria in Centralville at the present time is a serious one, and the local board of health should lose no time in getting to the root of the trouble. The Billings Street school—where seven cases have been reported—should be closely watched and any further outbreak there should be met by prohibitive measures. Although some members of the board of health think that the infection is a neighborhood one due to contact, the milk supply should be immediately investigated. Recent outbreaks here were allowed to spread alarmingly, and our health authorities should see to it that nothing is left undone which would prevent a repetition of former regrettable conditions.

INDIAN ORCHARD ROAD

It is very gratifying to find that the county commissioners are considering the question of aiding the city in constructing a macadam road from Centralville bridge to the Dracut line via Indian Orchard, to connect with the new state highway to Lawrence which is nearing completion. The city is desirous of making that portion within the city limits worthy of the fine highway of which it will be a link, but the cost is prohibitive, unless part of it is borne by the state and county. It is to be hoped that the commissioners will get authority to act favorably in the matter.

AS TO STREET OILS

There are various kinds and qualities of street oil. Commissioner Donnelly has not seen fit to secure the poorest or cheapest for our streets, but the taxpayers expect that he has selected the kind best suited for the streets of Lowell and the kind that is best worth the amount paid for it. There are street oils no better than asphalts and it would be wrong to buy them at any price.

For the Weak and Nervous

Tired-out, weak, nervous men and women would feel ambitious, energetic, full of life and always have a good appetite, if they would do the sensible thing for health—take Electric Bitters. Nothing better for the stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands say they owe their lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs O. Rhinevault, of Crystal Center, N. Y., says: "I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest of gifts. I can never forget what it has done for me." Get a bottle yourself and see what a difference it will make in your health. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by A. W. Dows & Co.

Seen and Heard

When Sir Isaac Newton's brother was a child he found another boy ill-treating a toad, and remonstrated vigorously.

"Don't do that," he protested. "Let it alone. It's not your toad."

"Whose toad is it, then?" demanded the other boy defiantly. "It's not yours."

"Why, of course, it's its own toad," was the unanswerable argument of the young humanitarian.

Robert M. Pindell, Jr., chief clerk of the department of commerce and labor in Washington, seldom gets home in time to eat dinner with his family because the press of his work keeps him at his desk until long after everybody else has left the building. Mrs. Pindell always puts his dinner in the warming oven, where he finds it when he arrives.

One night he reached home after the family had gone to bed, and found his dinner on top of the stove. Next morning his wife opened the oven and discovered that the food she had left for him had not been touched.

"Why, Robert! Didn't you eat your supper last night?" she asked.

"My dear," he replied, "I did, and enjoyed it very much, but you made a mistake and left it on top of the stove."

"Good Heavens!" she cried. "That was the dog's supper."

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Need For Caution

Brockton Enterprise: The automobile ought to be used with caution on rainy days. Not only on such days is it likely to skid and hurt those in it, but it has great ability for damaging the clothes of those who may be near the machine when it hits a puddle. There were several cases noted last week in this city where people got a splashing of this kind that did their clothes no good, ruffled their tempers and placed them in the list of those who are enemies to the auto and its owners. Any man who is running an auto knows perfectly well that when he drives his machine close to the sidewalk, or close to the side of the road if he's running on a country turnpike, and the roadway is full of puddles, he is bound to spatter pedestrians if he rushes along at speed and sends his machine right through the mud.

Pocket Money

Lynn News: The question of pocket money for boys is one which at various times agitates the thoughts of parents. In a concrete way this matter came up in Chicago recently. A boy of 15 was arrested for stealing. In court it was made evident that he had been earning $3.15 a day, and that all of this had gone to his father, the boy being allowed none for his own use. Consequently the stealing. The judge released the boy on probation, and ordered the father to give him an allowance of ten cents a week. That amount should not be missed very much by the parents, and is certainly not enough to lead the boy into mischief. Whether it is enough to keep him from stealing from freight cars only time will show.

Democratic Outlook

Johnstown Democrat: The McKinley bill, that fostered the trusts and ignored the interests of the people, gave the democrats a majority of 150 in the house; and what the Taft-Payne law did to the party of the predatory interests would be cruel to mention.

If the people in their impatience desert the standard of true democracy because the democratic party was faithful to the trust reposed in it, then it will be the people and not the party that will suffer.

The Whipping Post

Fall River Globe: Canada has prescribed the whipping post as a feature of the course of treatment to be administered to the vile wretches who are convicted of being engaged in the white slave traffic there. If there is a crime for which that sort of punishment can be justinably recommended it is that and in applying it the guilty ones should be literally flogged within an inch of their lives.

Prize Fighting

Burlington Free Press: It is true that fewer men are killed in the prize ring than in aviation meets and automobile races, but there is a distinction between killings. It can make little difference to the victim whether he falls from a monoplane or is hit over the heart by an opopnent in a prize fight as was the case with Luther McCarty in Calgary Saturday. There is a difference to society, however. When a man dies in the prize ring, it is because another man has killed him. Spectacles of this kind are too terrible for society to tolerate. Boxing is one thing. Prize fighting in the brutal form it invariably takes, is quite another thing.

Carnegie's Change

Foster's Democrat: According to testimony at the steel hearing the Laird of Skibo has not always loved to have the dove of peace about. A letter dated Jan. 2, 1899, and said to have been written by him was read, and one striking passage is as follows: "Here is a historic situation for the managers to study Richelieu's advice: First, all means to conciliate; failing that, all means to crush." So it would seem that in his business affairs at that period, Mr. Carnegie was ready to deliver a knockout blow, if others were not willing to accede to his wishes.

LOWELL CEMETERY

Many Improvements During the Year—What One of the Managers Says of Memorial Day

One of the management of the Lowell cemetery says, "Lot owners and others who go to the Lowell cemetery on Memorial day will find the grounds in more beautiful appearance than ever before at this season of the year. There are two reasons. There has been an unusual amount of new work done since last Memorial day and the cold season has so held back the growing of grass that the men have had more than usual time to do an unusual amount of called for repair work. Moreover there appears to be an unusual amount of advance orders for flowers and plants for decoration of graves and lots. The old custom of bouquet placing is being supplanted by wire basket arrangement so contrived with the use of moss that the decoration is more lasting. At a cost of a dollar a very nice display can be made. I understand that the Grand Army people will give up the use of flowers the coming Memorial day, confining the attention to planting of the American flag in its iron standard. Given as an individual opinion for what it may be worth, I should say the disuse of flowers is to be regretted.

The Serge That Satisfies, $15.00

The iron sign idea has been robbed of much of its fine sentiment by being imitated by about every other existing organization, so that in case of some graves of distinguished citizens who have passed on, the collection of hardware denoting the several organizations to which the worthy man belonged, gives the idea of a good thing—or a bad thing, whichever way one may view the custom, as overdone. However there is no accounting for tastes, exemplified in many other ways in every cemetery in the land. In the course of time, these iron signs unless they are kept in repair by paint will rust themselves away and eventually must go to the scrap-heap.

"The water supply at the Lowell cemetery is deficient in some portions of the grounds. This will be met by placing water barrels at convenient points. As a whole the Lowell cemetery will be found beautiful and certainly a credit to the city of Lowell. The management extends welcome to all our people, that is to all who go there with proper feeling and those who will conduct themselves properly while there."

"The protest that is being made against the misuse of Memorial day seems to me not without justification. I would not expect to see a community make the day one of sadness, but it does seem as though one or two hours of the day could be and should be devoted in remembrance of our dead, all the dead. For one, I am glad to hang up my baseball bat, and slow up my automobile for that length of time. I feel that I owe it to the dead, my dead, and I love to believe that my children will follow in the same thought.'

MAY CUT FAMOUS OLD ASTOR HOUSE IN TWO; HISTORIC HOTEL'S DOOM SEALED BY SUBWAY

NEW YORK, May 29.—The famous old Aster House, for years visited by notables from all parts of the world, will be closed today for good. The final curtain on the historic hostelry may be rung down in an odd manner, however. There is a possibility that the half of the hotel owned by William Waldorf Astor will be left standing, while the half belonging to the estate of John Jacob Astor, the Titanic victim, will be torn down about June 15. This is why: The public service commission signed an agreement with the estate of John Jacob Astor, which owns the southern half of the building, to buy a perpetual easement beneath it in return for a payment of $600,000 and to construct a wall from bed rock along the Broadway and Vesey street sides of the lot, which will be strong enough to hold any building which the estate may decide to put up. The original line of the new subway was laid out by the commission's engineers so as to cut across one corner of the northern half of the hotel, owned by William Waldorf Astor. It has been found possible, however, to divert the subway so as to avoid this property. The John Jacob Astor estate will start the demolition of the southern half of the building, but nothing was known at the offices of the public service commission as to the plans of William Waldorf Astor. He will be left with half of an antiquated hotel standing and some lots adjoining it, running through from Barclay street to Vesey street. There is probably more history, tradition, tragedy and comedy associated with the weather stained, gray stoned old Astor House than with any other old building in New York. John Jacob Astor, the founder of the Astor family in America, bought the plot and in the early thirties decided, much to the alarm of some conservative old Knickerbockers, to erect there the finest hotel on the western continent. The cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1834. It took three years to erect the building, and the original cost was $70,000. Perhaps there is no place in America where during the march of years so many celebrities from every field of endeavor have gathered. There has been murder, theft and suicide between those grim stone walls. Some of the bitterest political campaigns of American history have been planned there. A year after the place was opened Nathaniel Hawthorne and Charles Dickens registered there, and only a few months later Washington Irving spent several weeks there while on a visit to New York. Every president of the United States since the Civil war, excepting William H. Taft, has had at least one meal in the Astor House. In the parlors upstairs the campaigns of Henry Clay, Zachary Taylor and Winfield Scott were organized. Edgar Allan Poe, who in 1841 edited Graham's Magazine, dropped into the Astor House daily to pick up news. On the Astor steps Louis Kossuth bade adieu to America, and the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales, with the Grand Duke Alexis, bowed from those steps to the crowds. Thackeray passed in and out of the hotel entrance, and down those steps P. T. Barnum escorted Jenny Lind to her coach, and Macready followed.

SPECULATORS BUSY AT BILLERICA

Preempting the Most Desirable Land—Great Activity at B. & M. Shop—Town News

The chief topic of discussion in the town of Billerica at the present time is the coming sale of the McGlone farm, which it is stated has attracted the attention of many real estate men all over New England.

This farm is situated very near the new car shops and also on the proposed route of the extension of the South Lowell car line. It has been the property of the McGlone family since 1832. The farm contains about 100 acres of fine land, and the real estate men have their eyes on it, for it is well adapted to be divided into house lots.

The writer was told yesterday that a number of the residents of Billerica are about to form a real estate company, for they feel it is not fair to let outsiders come into their town and secure all the best property. One man said: "We worked hard to get the Boston & Maine Co. to build their car shops in this town, and this we did for our own interest and not to make a good thing for out-of-town real estate speculators. Now do you think it would be a fair proposition for us to let strangers come here, secure the best property available and get the booty?" "I do not think it would be right and many are of the same opinion, and accordingly we are trying to form a sort of stock company and if possible we will do the buying and the selling."

One of the commissioners in charge of the arrangements of the sale of the McGlone estate said a party of Providence real estate men, and in fact many from various sections of New England have written, asking information concerning the said farm, and many have signified their intention of being present at the sale.

It is expected that work will be started soon on the extension of the electric car line in South Lowell. A permit has been granted by the town of Billerica to the Bay State street railway company, and it is proposed to extend the line along Woburn street, shifting over to the Billerica road as far as the car shops. The new line will extend along the town farm and very near the McGlone farm, through the Clark property and the Conway estate.

The addition will afford a better car service for the residents of South Lowell and will also be a great accommodation to the Lowell people who will have business at the car shops, for it will only be a 20 minute ride.

Car Shops

The only building in process of construction on the B. & M. site at the present time is a lumber shed, which will be utilized for drying and storing purposes. The structure is about 100 ft. by 50 ft. and the work is progressing rapidly. There are fifty carpenters employed on the job and now they are putting on the roof. The building is being constructed of wood.

The other buildings are all roofed in and the cement floors are being installed. The shift of men has been greatly reduced and this kind of work is slowly advancing. A gang of about 75 men, employes of the Boston & Maine, are busily engaged in installing permanent railroad tracks about the premises.

It is not believed that the shops will be ready for occupancy much before the latter part of the year.

New Houses

Seven or eight apartment houses are being constructed in the vicinity of the car shops, and several parcels of land are being cleared of brush and other structures will soon be started. A large number of camps are also being erected on the banks of the Concord river, which is a most desirable spot as a summer resort. It is figured that there are nearly a thousand camps along the river and the following resorts in the town: Pinehurst, Riverdale, Riverhurst, Pinehurst annex, Manor and Nutting's pond. Several of them are already being occupied and within a few weeks all the camps will be in full swing.

A certain portion of the McGlone property is in demand for camp lots, as that particular site extends along the Concord river for a considerable distance.

Will Dredge River

Inasmuch as there is a large number of motor boats on the Concord river during the summer season, the town has decided to dredge the river and for this purpose a special appropriation was made at the last town meeting. The state has also taken the matter into consideration and will spend a certain amount in conjunction with the town. Work will be started soon. The dredging will be done from Billerica to Concord.

New Park

The park commission, Warren Manning, chairman, will soon put a shift of men at work on grading the small strip of land next to the Fordway bridge, opposite the residence of Police Officer Martin Conway. The same will be converted into a park.

Road Repairing

The Boston road between Smith's corner and Cerner bridge is closed to traffic, for several men are employed in patching up the road which was in a very bad condition.

The Burlington road from the line to Billerica Centre, and the Bedford road from the line to the end of the present macadamized road will be macadamized soon.

Postmastership

A successor has not yet been appointed to succeed Mrs. Alice Maxwell, who last April resigned her position of postmistress. There are several candidates for the office, but no one seems to be able to guess who will be appointed.

Cupid Working

It is being reported that the month of June will be a very busy one among certain young women of the village, for it is said that Cupid has been at work in the northern district and no less than six charming young women will change their names in a few weeks. It is also being stated that two well known widowers of the village will make a second attempt at matrimony. This means a lot of work for the town clerk, who will be called upon to issue permits. It seems that the village "chaps" are rather slow for in most of these love cases the gentlemen are from out of town. Get busy boys and don't let the strangers grab the pretty girls as well as the desirable land.

Car Service

Some of the residents of Billerica who earn their daily bread in Lowell complain that the car service is not what it should be, especially between the hours of five and seven. On many occasions, they say, the cars are crowded to the doors, and it is often that 120 passengers or more are packed into one car. People are all anxious to get home after their day's work and inasmuch as there is only one car on the line, they crowd into the same vehicle. One or two extra cars, they claim, would relieve the traffic. Officials of the company do not seem to heed the crowding even when the passengers are crowded closer than the Humane society would allow cattle. They also complain that in the heavy rain yesterday the company rode open cars, on which the passengers were drenched.

Personals

Prof. Gookin of Cambridge delivered a very interesting lecture to a large number of mothers at the Pollard school yesterday afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. William Bollington will be pained to learn that he is seriously ill at his home in the North village.

O'Callaghan Will Allowed

BOSTON, May 29.—Judge George of the Suffolk probate court yesterday allowed the will of the late Monsignor Denis O'Callaghan of St. Augustine's church, South Boston. The will was filed April 15, and a few days later distant relatives entered appearances for the purpose of contesting the instrument. Yesterday Catherine Harwood of North Beverly, a cousin, the only remaining contestant, withdrew her appearance.

ADM. SIGSBEE TO SPEAK

At Unveiling of the Maine Monument

NEW YORK, May 29.—Rear-Admiral Sigsbee, who commanded the old battleship Maine when it was blown up in Havana harbor in 1898, was the principal figure scheduled to attend the ceremony of the unveiling of the Maine monument here on Memorial day. He is now retired and was put down on the program for a speech. It had been arranged for the Atlantic fleet, under its new commander, Rear-Admiral Charles J. Badger, to anchor in the Hudson for the unveiling. A land parade was also to be a feature of the event.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

Town Allotments in Middlesex County Runs Into a Whole Lot of Money $75,350

The small town allotments for highway improvements in the county of Middlesex for the present year will total $75,350. The state highway commission has given this information to the county commission:

Miller has hit safely in eighteen consecutive games. From statistics at hand this record looks like a new mark. If he goes along at his present clip Manager Gray will be entertaining big league scouts at every home game.

The two heavies, Jess Willard and "Gunboat" Smith did not show any signs of championship ability in their recent contest. From all accounts both men were slow and showed nothing in the way of aggressiveness except wild swings.

The University of California athletes who will make their initial appearance at intercollegiate meets, will be watched with great interest Friday and Saturday by the spectators at the stadium. Beeson, who holds records of fine performances in the high jump and hurdle events, will especially be under observation. The Californians will arrive in Boston tonight.

It is whispered that Mr. Burkett, commonly called Jesse around the New England circuit, had his bluff called the other day down in Worcester. After Jesse had run out of gasaline through calling a few Lowell players all the pet names he could lay his tongue to, Joe Monahan stepped out of the Lowell dugout and addressed Burkett thusly: "Just go over there in the bench and keep quiet for a while, you big kid!" Everybody was thoroughly surprised when the Worcester manager, without even a backward look, did as the Lowell catcher so brusquely requested.

Joe Egan arrived in town today and took up his headquarters at the Richardson hotel. Egan looks none the worse for his encounter with Steve Kennedy at the Boston club Tuesday night. He is a very rugged fighter but he ought to realize that he cannot continue to fight two or three battles a week and last long at the game. Dar Wood is one pugilist whom we have seen go down through overwork, and there are many more examples of what too much fighting will do for a mitt artist.

Lowell high will play Haverhill high tomorrow morning in Haverhill and a large crowd of the high school boys' rooters have made arrangements to accompany the team. The boys are playing a much different brand of ball from what they started the season with and deserve all the support that can be given them.

Anderson, the new shortstop of the Lowell team, is not backward about going after a ball no matter where it is nor how hard it is hit. This kind of fielding is worth double that of the player who is always thinking of his average and who will purposely try not to touch the ball if he does not figure he can complete the play. For instance, look at Hickman in the last game Portland played here. Magee put a hot one down through short and Hickman proceeds to take a few steps toward the ball and then fall down. There was absolutely no cause to which he could attribute his fall except that he did not want to have his glove come in contact with the grounder. We choose to keep a player who tries for everything, no matter if he makes twice as many errors as the opposite kind.

Jack Hylan is beginning the season like a champion, although he has not been on the links very much thus far. His work yesterday at the Vesper links when he completed his 18 holes in 71 strokes, a new record, is a remarkable performance. With the weather conditions all against him, he went over his last nine holes in 35. With a good day in his favor it would not be surprising to see this golfer knock another stroke or two off the record.

INJURED AT BALL GAME

Lawyer Awarded $3500 Damages

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 29.—Chas. Edling, an attorney was awarded $3500 damages against the local American association baseball management in the circuit court last night for injuries sustained while watching a game here last year. He alleged that his nose was broken and his eyesight injured by a foul ball that hit him while he was sitting in the grand stand.

Philadelphia Polo Team

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—W. H. T. Huhn, captain of the all-Philadelphia polo team which will meet the English team at the Philadelphia Country club next Saturday, announced last night that Charles Wheeler will play on the local team in place of Alexander Brown, who was injured in a game at Bala last Tuesday.

ARREST JACK JOHNSON

Charge This Time is Cutting Out His Muffler While Driving His Automobile

CHICAGO, May 29.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with cutting out his muffler while riding in his automobile in Clark street.

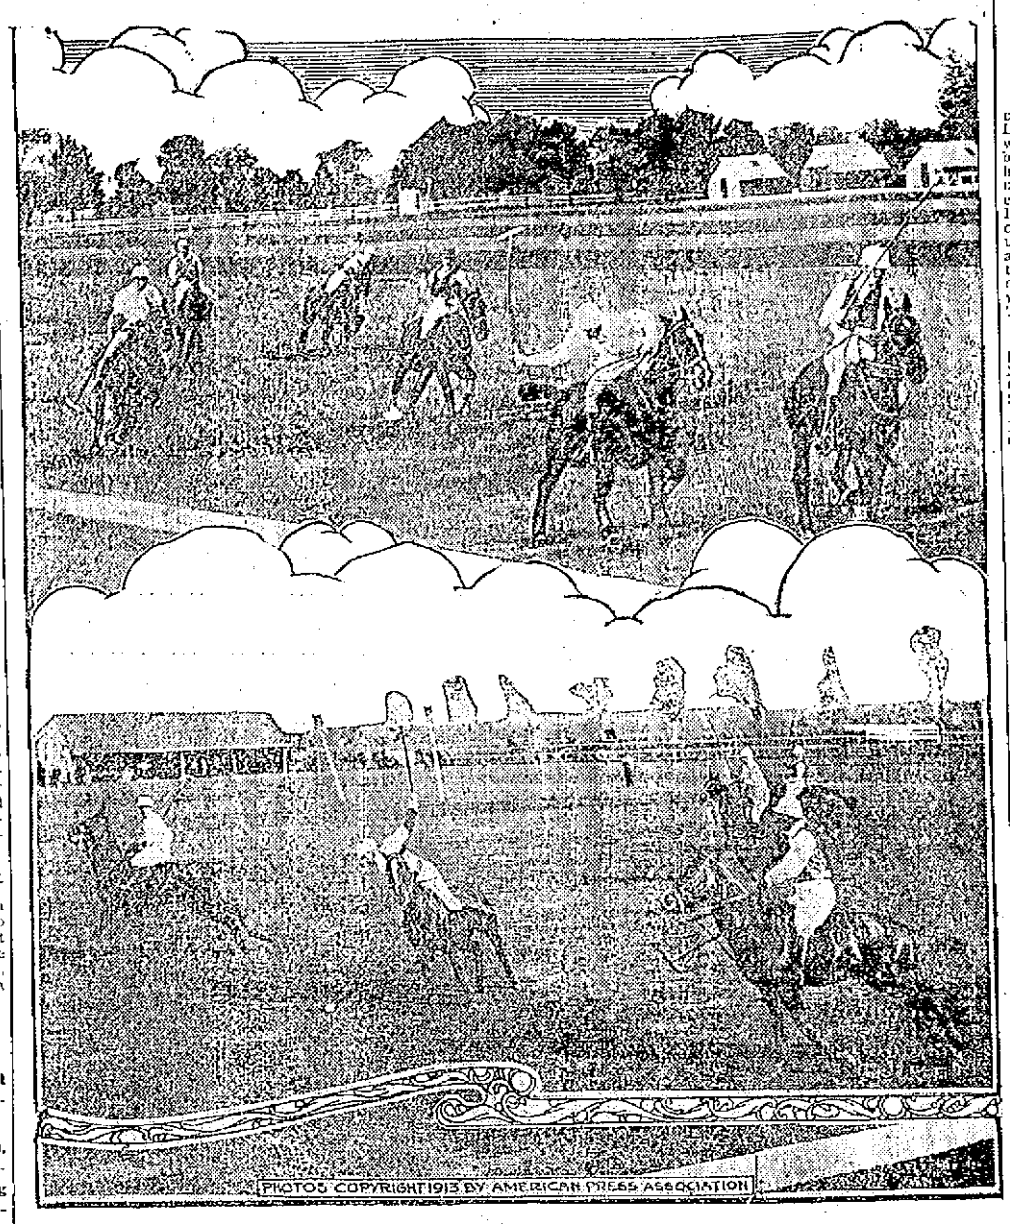

The noise caused by the opening of the muffler attracted the attention of hundreds of persons. A riot call was sent to police headquarters and the mob had to be clubbed before the negro could be taken to the station. Johnson was released and will be arraigned in court today.

GEORGE M'BRIDE IS THE GREATEST OF SHORTSTOPS, SAYS GRIFFITH

"George McBride of Washington is today the greatest shortstop playing baseball. You can have your Wagners, Weavers, and the pick of all of them, but for mine I will stick to the man we have." This is the high valuation placed upon his field leader by Manager Clark Griffith. "There are men playing the position who can hit more frequently than McBride, there may be some who can field as well, and there may be some who are as wise in baseball, but in the combination of all I think there is not one who is in the same class with George. McBride works for the team's good every minute of the day. When I first went to Washington I found certain people who seemed anxious to criticise the captain, but I was certainly happy when I found that the fans were beginning to appreciate the value of the man whom I look upon as my right bower. Usually when McBride hits the hit means something, and a person would have to be pretty close to the club, attend the club meetings and follow every move on the field to know what a part the shortstop has played in lifting Washington from a joke to a real, live factor in the American league. Give me McBride and the others can have their pick of the shortstops in both leagues."

AMERICAN POLO PLAYERS DID HARD WORK IN PREPARATION FOR MEETING BRITISHERS

WESTBURY, N. Y., May 29.—The American polo team put in hard work here in preparation for the contests with the English players. In their practice games the men did not spare either themselves or their mounts. On the last day's practice here, scenes of which are shown in the picture, Devereux Milburn appeared for the first time since his accident of two weeks ago at the Rockaway Hunting club which nearly cost him his life. Whether or not Harry Payne Whitney purposely distributed his men so as to mystify the players of the English team, who sat along the side lines and watched critically every move, or, as was rumored he has selected the team that will defend the cup, remains an open question. Anyway, Captain Whitney would not answer it. The team he worked, and worked hard, through two four period contests was: Louis E. Stoddard, No. 1; Devereux Milburn, No. 2; Harry Payne Whitney, No. 3, and Malcolm Stevenson at back. This remarkable shift in the line conformed somewhat to the rumored team that may be sent against the Hurlingham challenges. According to the best information obtainable, Stoddard is to play at No. 1, Larry Waterbury at No. 2, Milburn, whose fame rests chiefly upon his spectacular riding at back, at No. 3, while Whitney is to play the all important position at back. There are many who profess to believe that the changes will materially strengthen the team and that Captain Whitney, with his dash and fire, may be depended upon to ride off the Britons from the goal.

RACING FRATERNITY THROUGHOUT LAND WATCHES REOPENING OF BELMONT PARK

NEW YORK, May 29.—Horse racing in New York state will be resumed on Memorial day. Betting had been barred by law in the state for the last few years, and the racing fraternity welcomed the decision of the courts which permitted racing under restrictions as to betting. The general view of Belmont Park, where the opening race meet is scheduled, shows the extent of the track which was for a few years nothing but a mass of weeds. Governor Sulzer of New York state threatened to stop the racing if his investigators found that open betting was going on. August Belmont headed the New York millionaires who made the racing season possible after the court had given its decision.

CUBS WIN GREAT GAME

Chicago-St. Louis Contest Went 17 Innings

In the longest major league game of the season Chicago defeated St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 7. The game was not decided until 17 innings had been played, although Chicago should have won the game in the ninth inning. Mitchell with two out and Chicago two runs in the lead, dropped Zimmerman's high fly and before the third out had been made St. Louis had tied up the score. The winning run came across when Harmon passed a man in the 17th with three men on and two out. The game from start to finish was replete with sensational plays. The score:

AMERICAN DEFEATED

Schmidt Lost to Hilton at Golf Tourney

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 29.—W. Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., was beaten today in the sixth round of the championship by H. H. Hilton of the Royal Liverpool Golf club at the nineteenth hole.

Schmidt, the 23 year old student who learned his golf while a caddie has been the sensation of the championship tournament owing to the remarkable strength and skill of his game. He met in the various rounds some of the leading golfers at the British Isles but succeeded in fighting his way to the sixth round in which only eight players were left. The contest was a keen one and at the 18th hole was still a tie. The veteran then, in playing the extra hole, beat the young player and thus put the last American contestant out of the tournament. Schmidt, who worked his way through college, took his final examination early by special permission of the faculty in order to be able to proceed to Scotland to play in the championship.

Question in Doing

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 29.—While play was proceeding in the tournament for the amateur golf championship of the world today an important question affecting any future American entries was being discussed at the annual meeting of the committee of delegates from all the Scottish, English and Irish clubs which settles the conditions governing entries for the championship. The question arose owing to the difference between the British and American systems of handicapping. While in the United States no player is rated higher than scratch in the British isles the plus system prevails. The strongest players are sometimes rated as high as "plus 6" and consequently have six strokes added to their scores in any handicap medal game.

Young Lincolns Won

The Young Lincolns defeated the Young West Ends Saturday by the score of 11 to 4. The feature of the game was the pitching of Netto of the winners. They would like to play any 13-year-old team in the city. Send all challenges to Herbert Harris, 62 Lincoln street, or through this paper.

MECHANICS COMING

Three Hundred Are Expected Here From Concord to Constitute a Night Force At B. & M. Car Shops

Three hundred mechanics are expected in this city in the near future. These men will come from Concord, N. H. and will be employed on the night shift at the car shops of the Boston & Maine railroad in Billerica, which are scheduled to open by August 1.

The Lowell board of trade is making arrangements for available homes in this city, and for this purpose the Lowell Electric Light Corp. and the Lowell Gas Light Co. are working in conjunction with the members of the board to find suitable homes for the outsiders.

Maine Congressman Dead

PORTLAND, Me., May 29.—Hon. Forrest Goodwin of Skowhegan, republican representative to congress from the third Maine district, died yesterday at a private hospital, to which he was brought from his residence a week ago last Sunday. Death was due to liver trouble.

AN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

Ball Game, Field Sports and Boxing

The big athletic carnival of the Lowell A. C. will be held at Spaulding park tomorrow afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. The boxing numbers will come first on the program. Joe Egan who on Tuesday night won from Steve Kennedy of Lawrence will appear in the feature number, with Johnny Dohan of New York. Both are recognized lightweights and their exhibition should be a hummer.

Young Morgan of Manchester and Gus Lenney of Boston are booked for the semi-final. This pair met in Lowell several weeks ago and while Lenney had a shade the better of the bout, the experts agreed that Morgan would defeat Lenney in another battle. Friday's fray will decide how near they are right.

For the preliminary, Gardner Brooks and Jerry Lucette have been secured. Brooks is one of the cleverest youngsters ever seen in this section, while Lucente is known in Boston as a comer.

The Burkes and South Ends are in fine fettle, and an interesting contest may be looked for.

The Marathon will introduce, among othes: Joe Cristo, Chris Roddy, Billie Salmon, Jimmy Carr, Clarence Noyes, Nelson P. Dickey and O'Neil, Goddard and Doherty.

Joe Cristo is the favorite, but many aver that a dark horse will cop off the prize.

The assessments will be fifty cents, one dollar, and one dollar and a half.

GRAND SUFFRAGE PLAY PRESENTED

MISS MARY F. DEVINE
Who Wrote Play and Took Leading Role

"A Daughter of Today" by Miss Mary F. Devine—Fine Acting by Teachers

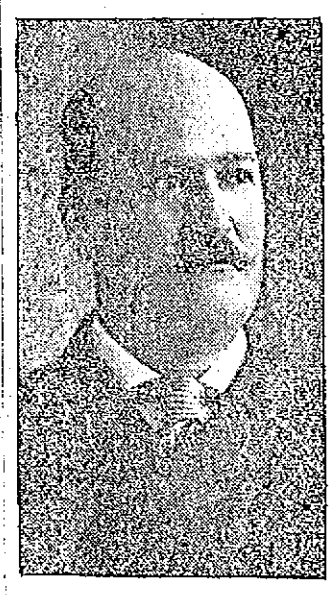

A truly delightful play, and incidentally one of the strongest pleas ever given on behalf of woman suffrage—was produced at the Opera House last evening when Miss Mary F. Devine's four act drama, "A Daughter of Today" was given under the auspices of the Lowell teachers' organization. The house was absolutely crowded and many were disappointed in trying to secure seats as all the available tickets were purchased days before. Notwithstanding the rain, no one stayed away, and those who disregarded the severe weather were well repaid, for the play was unique as it was brilliant, and as brilliantly presented as it was unique. There can be no doubt that Miss Devine's convincing arguments converted many in the audience as well as the "governor and his council" on the stage.

The first scene of the play was the rich interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. or more properly Mrs. and Mr. Nelson King. Mr. King was disclosed busily dusting the furniture and bewailing his fate. He discovers that he is being "subjugated" and determines to assert himself. With a regal and majestic air, Mrs. Nelson King enters and interrupts his soliloquy by giving him directions as to what he is to do in the cellar, attic, and kitchen. Mr. King tries to bring his courage up to the point of protesting, but alas! one look from his stern spouse and he meekly goes on dusting the furniture. Mrs. King goes to the Ozone suffrage club after declaring herself in danger of nervous prostration, and the long suffering Mr. King takes a glorious revenge for his unfortunate "subjugation" by breaking a vase. Mr. John E. Barr made an excellent hen-pecked husband, and Miss Mirion H. Milner, as Mrs. King was perfect. By the way, she did not look unlike Mrs. Belmont, the American leader of the woman suffrage movement.

The second scene was the rooms of the Ozone Equal Suffrage club. A formal meeting is being held with an apparent regard to, but in reality a beautiful disregard of, Cushing's manual. The most important matter under discussion was the delegating of a member to speak at the meeting before the governor's council one month later. Suggestions are called for from the floor and each woman, of course, thinks that she is the only one who can perform the delicate mission with satisfaction. Mrs Stern—Miss Maria W. Roberts—makes a plea in her own behalf, claiming that as she was a masterful woman, she could hold the governor's attention with a glance. Mrs. Savage—Miss Leonora K. Battles—claimed superiority on the ground that men were her specialty, and Miss Coy—Miss Catherine M. Usher—wished to go because she had met the governor years ago at a garden party and she was perfectly sure that he held her hand a little longer than was absolutely necessary. Then come wild commotion when Mrs. King calmly arose and nominated herself. She thanked them for the honor they had conferred on her. She then gets ready to go, but before she retires she announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary King, to Paul Jonathan Blair, the son of one of the members of the governor's council, who is a well known opponent to the movement. While they are discussing the engagement Mary rushes in, and is compelled to show the ring and how it happened. This she does with naive girlishness, and the arch plotters plan to convert Paul. The comedy here was sparkling and refreshing, and Miss Devine as Mary made a good impression which was strengthened to the end of the performance.

In scene four, Mr. Paul Jonathan Blair, Mr. Abel Campbell, sits alone in his office when in sweeps the converting squad of the Ozone suffrage club, armed with guns and with colors flying. The captain, Miss Hortense Taber, gives orders and presents arguments in a telling manner and the color bearers, Miss Charlotte C. Walsh sings a song worthy of a professional. The converting squad swells the refrain, and no one except such a stubborn individual as Paul Jonathan Blair could possibly resist. He will not be converted, however, and after escaping the guns of the indignant women, he escapes. They file out in a soldierly manner. No sooner does he return to his office than Mary enters, disguised as a militant suffragette. She uses the tongue as skilfully as the squad used the gun, but Mr. Blair, Jr. is still obdurate. Mary chases him around the office and finally declares that she will get him yet, as she takes off her disguise and reveals herself to the astonished Paul.

Act two brings the scene of the play back to the living room of the Kings. Mary is revealed perfectly happy over her engagement and admires her ring as only a newly engaged girl can. But in comes a shadow in the portly personage of Mr. Charles Blair who declares that he wants to have quite a talk with Mary. He tells her of his disapproval of her woman suffrage activity, and puts before her the ideal characters of the Blair women who were domestic and excelled in the darning of stockings, drying of apples, and all those other accomplishments of a daughter of yesterday. But Mary, too, had an ancestress worthy of imitation, and she tells of Mary Butler of Galway who went about during the terrible Irish famine doing good, never stopping until she reached Queen Victoria and made a personal plea for the starving poor of Ireland. Mr. Blair failing to convince Mary of the folly of her ways, according to his views, pleads with her to release his son. She does so, and returns the ring.

CHARLES W. MOREY,
Who Assumed Role of Governor

This scene was strong and convincing, and there was not a touch of the amateur about the work of the principals. Mr. Thornton was ideal, reserved and conservative, and he spoke with an earnestness which made the character real. Mary, too, was particularly good, refraining from anything like the over-acting which is a temptation to the young actress in emotional scenes.

Then comes real excitement. Mrs. King enters and on being told of the news the nervous prostration becomes a reality and she faints away. Poor Mr. King is disconsolate. He rushes about aimlessly in dire confusion and drinks the water which is given him to bathe her brow. The doctor comes. Dr. Jones in the play, but Dr. Collins in real life, and he advises a sea trip. Mr. King expresses his willingness to take her to the ends of the earth, and after heroic efforts she recovers. One of the most amusing parts of the play was the exit. Mrs. King leaned helplessly on her grief stricken husband and the maid, but unfortunately their strength was not equal to their solicitude, so that the egress was more comical than graceful. In this scene Miss Milner was splendid. She looked the part of the nerve racked and fallen leader, and for once, she refrained from putting her worthy mate through his paces. Before Mrs. King consented to go abroad, she delegated Mary to take her place at the governor's hearing.

The third act is the strongest and best. When the curtain goes up we see the governor and his council in session. Mr. C. W. Morey was the governor and his council was the grammar masters. They are weary from listening to suffrage arguments and are not favorable. Miss Mary King, however remains to be heard, and they consent to let her appear. Before she entered Mr. Patrick Reynolds gave a splendid interpretation of a male woman suffrage advocate, while Mr. Blair—Mr. Thornton—strongly protests.

Whether regarded from the brilliancy of the lines or the finished execution, the work of Miss Devine during this scene was exceptionally fine. She began her plea in a quiet, even voice, but as the argument unfolded, the audience realized that it was being treated to an intellectual feast, and intense silence prevailed. She gradually unfolded her theme, driving home argument after argument, refuting one ad-

Something New in Travel To the Yellowstone Park

That glorious trip through the Yellowstone Park can be made this summer in unusual comfort and with added interest. Our railroad—"The Burlington"—will run a luxurious Pullman car daily from Chicago, for 300 miles by daylight through the wonderfully beautiful valley of the Mississippi river, "The Father of Waters," and direct to Gardiner, the entrance to the park.

Furthermore, once every week we shall provide a special conductor, who will go with this car and accompany the occupants throughout the entire trip, pointing out and explaining everything of interest, and carefully looking after the comfort of our guests. No extra charge for this extra service.

May I have the privilege of telling you more, sending you maps, pictures and descriptions of the Valley and the Park (no charge)? I would like to help you plan the trip and look after the details for you. That's what I'm paid to do.

WITH THE FRATERNITIES

Buffaloes Chose Delegates to Convention

Lowell herd, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, No. 10, met last night in Odd Fellows temple with a large number of members present. Several applications for membership were received. Supreme Secretary Charles Finn of Quincy was present and spoke upon the work of the order. He said in part: "The Lowell herd was organized Dec. 8, 1912, and has a splendid membership of prominent young men of the city. The order is organized under the laws of Massachusetts and its business is conducted both by subordinate and supreme herds, most economically. It pays sick benefits and funeral expenses. The charter of the Lowell herd will probably close at the next meeting and may never open again, as the opening of the charter must be sanctioned by the supreme order." His remarks were very interesting.

During the meeting three of the members were elected to attend the supreme convention to be held in Worcester June 10 and 11. After the business a social hour was enjoyed and the following members spoke on the good of the order: Dr. Plunkett, Dr. Sawyer, E. Lyle and Charles Flannery. President W. Pendergast presided at the meeting.

A communication was received from the International brotherhood, asking them if they would affiliate with the trades and builders' union. A vote was taken and the members did not believe it advisable to join at present. Three applications for membership were read and there were two initiations. Plans are under way for an outing to be held during the month of July. P. R. Monohan presided.

James A. Garfield Post, G. A. R.

At the meeting of the James A. Garfield post, G. A. R., held last night, one application for membership was received. POLICE DEPT. WIRES

Work of Laying Them Will Begin Soon

The work of laying a stretch of police department wires, underground, for which Mayor O'Donnell recently asked the municipal council for a loan of $1500, will begin within a few days, the requisition for the necessary cables having gone to the purchasing agent's office, and when it has been completed the greater part of Belvidere will be relieved for all time of a possible danger to life and limb that has existed for years unknown to the average citizen.

The police, telephone and alarm wires are all of low tension and individually not of great danger. The telegraph wires are of higher tension, while the electric light and street railroad wires are of extremely high tension. Should any of the low tension wires break and fall upon the wires of higher tension they would immediately become charged as highly as the others and become of great danger. On all poles the police department wires occupy the top crossarms, and, therefore, in the event of their breaking, they would necessarily strike the higher tension wires in falling and the city would be liable for any damage caused thereby. To obviate this danger to some effect, Mayor O'Donnell asked for $1500 to continue the work of placing the police wires underground, and Belvidere has been selected as the place to start the work inasmuch as the police wires are over and follow the high tension wires of the Electric Light company as they come from the power house in Perry street and run through Pond, Concord, Fayette, East Merrimack and other streets in that section. Under present conditions an officer ringing his box is liable to be killed by a shock in case of accident that would bring the low voltage wires in contact with the high.

Electrician Burns has ordered 3850 feet of six wire cable, and when the work has been completed the police department will have 68 miles of underground single wires and 42 miles still overhead. The first work of laying police wires underground was begun 17 years ago, and has been continued from time to time as the money was available.

SUFFRAGE PLAY PRESENTED

verse allegation after another, until she had made a finished, masterly and graceful plea that could not easily be combatted. The crowning beauty of it was its womanliness. She spoke of male contempt for woman suffrage because of woman's emotional nature, and showed how that could be turned into one of its strongest arguments. She pointed out the grand ideal of the nature of woman, and showed how that ideal would work for good in the world of law. Her delivery was worthy of the eloquent appeal, and the appeal is undoubtedly one of the finest ever delivered in behalf of the woman suffrage movement. It is a foregone conclusion that she converted the governor, and if one may judge from the comments heard throughout the theatre after the act, she established a reputation for cleverness and ability that is most enviable.

The last act was a gathering up of the scattered threads. Mr. Blair, converted by her argument, pleads with Mary to take back his son, and Mary does some clever teasing. Paul returns ardent as ever and converted to the cause. It may not be amiss to say here that Mr. Campbell can make love as well as he can sell real estate. He proposed very gracefully and Mary blushed—really she did. Mary presents Paul with a pair of scarlet socks which he promises to keep, being too sacred, and too red, to wear. In the midst of the happiness Mr. and Mrs. King return from Europe and there is a grand family reunion. Mr. King, togged out in the latest fashion, admires his clever wife more than ever, and she assures him that she saw nobody just like him in Paris. They both give good advice to Paul and Mary about the mastery of the house—each thinking that the other is blind to the transaction. The curtain falls on a happy family, and shuts them out from a happy audience.

The applause throughout was frequent and generous, and Miss Devine could not hold the great number of beautiful bouquets she received. Miss Milner, too received a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Mr. Ernest McKechnie, president of the State Federation of Teachers, was on the stage as a member of the governor's council.

The play was staged under the direction of William F. Thornton.

The members of the orchestra were as follows: Miss Amy Tucke, Miss Hannah M. Barrows, Miss Goldie M. Gardner, Willford Boulger, Miss McCann, Miss Ruth Adams, Leo Bissonnette, Edmund Stearns, Master Allen, Master Love; Frederick O. Blunt, director, won much applause for the fine program.

COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF THE McGLONE FARM

Saturday, May 31, at 3 P. M.

AT NORTH BILLERICA

Next to the Billerica Town Farm

I shall sell at public auction, to settle the estate of the late Michael McGlone, the following parcels of real estate:

Lot 1—Consists of 14 acres and 66 rods of land, more or less, that has a good barn and other outbuildings. The land is high, level, and within 15 minutes' walk of the new Boston & Maine car shop, just the piece to cut up into small lots and sell.

Lot 2—Consists of 131½ rods, the homestead site. The buildings were burned. A nice lot.

Lot 3—Consists of 25 acres of land, more or less, that is partly covered with a good growth of mixed wood, some pine. This would make a nice home for a family, with plenty of cleared land to farm.

Lot 4—Consists of 10 acres, more or less, that has a good growth of mixed wood and some timber. The lot has a frontage of 47 rods and 3 links on the Concord river and is much sought for as camp lots.

Lot 5—Consists of what is known as the 10 acre "Dam Swamp." This lot is covered with a good growth of hard wood.

Lot 6—Consists of 35½ acres of land, more or less, that has a good growth of pine lumber. The lot has a frontage of 650 feet on the Concord river. The wood and timber is a good asset on this lot, as well as the fact that camp lots can be sold on the river front.

The sale of the lots one and two will take place as aforesaid, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, May 31, on said lot one.

The sale of lots three, four, five and six will take place at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon, May 31, on lot three as above described.

This is a splendid opportunity for any person that would like to buy a parcel of land that is within 15 minutes' walk of the new Boston & Maine car shop, that will soon be opened, when homes will be sure to be needed. These lots are about 15 minutes' walk from the end of South Lowell electric car line, which will soon be extended to the car shops, permit having been granted for the same.

Terms of Sale: 10 per cent. of the purchase money must be paid as a deposit as soon as each lot is sold. Other terms at sale.

Per order JAMES BURNS,
MARTIN CONWAY,
M. J. SHARKEY,
Commissioners.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SALE OF REAL ESTATE, I WILL SELL THE FARMING TOOLS, WAGONS, ETC.

C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer

Office, Old B. & M. Depot; Storehouse and Commission Rooms, Green Street. Tel. 1485.

NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 31, AT 2.45 O'CLOCK

A two-tenement house and about 2250 square feet of land at 23 Cady street. On the premises regardless of any condition of the weather, I shall offer for absolute sale the above property. The house, which is a two-story one, contains two tenements, having seven rooms with one, and five with the other. Toilet on floor with each tenement. The house is in good shape, inside and out. It is always rented, the present tenants paying $11 and $9 each, making a total rental of $240 per year. The lot has a good frontage on Cady street with an area of about 2250 square feet, and all fenced in. Cady street, which is located between Central and Lawrence streets, is right in a location where there is a good demand for medium priced tenements, it being convenient to so many large industries. Now, then, here is an opportunity for someone of moderate means to purchase a two-tenement house where they could occupy one and have the income of the other tenement.

Terms $200 to be paid the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Fifty to 70 per cent. can remain on mortgage at 5 per cent.

Make all inquiries of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

C. F. KEYES.

NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 31, AT 3.30 O'CLOCK

The James Birtwell property at the corner of Whipple and Swift streets, consisting of a house, stable and large carriage shed and about 6362 square feet of land. Owing to poor health, I have made up my mind to make absolute sale of my property and to dispose of my grocery and butcher business and I have placed the same in the hands of the auctioneer to be sold on the premises regardless of any condition of the weather on the day and hour advertised. The house consists of two tenements and a large store. One tenement of 13 rooms and bath, with steam heat; also a tenement of six rooms with steam heat. The store, which is located on the corner, I occupy myself, also the 13-room tenement. There is also a one-story building with a very nice store fronting on Whipple street.

The barn has three stalls and carriage room for four or five carriages; over the carriage shed there is a large storage room finished in Georgia pine. The buildings are all in good condition inside and out.

The lot has a large frontage on Whipple and Swift streets, with an area of about 6362 square feet.

I am conducting a grocery and provision store and doing a good profitable business in the same, and I will agree to continue the business in the store until the new purchaser is ready to take possession and for some speculator who did not want to continue the business, he could easily rent the property for $75 a month. This location is a first class one, it being within five minutes' walk of the Bleachery, Bunting, Stirling, Bay State and Waterhead mills, also the Heinze Electric and Cartridge shops. This property can be seen any time by calling at the store.

Terms: $600 to be paid the auctioneer as soon as struck off. A good, liberal mortgage can remain at 5 per cent.

Per order JAMES BIRTWELL.

SAYS TEDDY NEVER DRANK OR SWORE

Witness Says That No One Would Dare Utter Obscene Word in Roosevelt's Presence

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 29.—Geo. Shiras, host of Theodore Roosevelt, who is suing George A. Newett for libel in the Marquette court with the plaintiff and defendant is receiving a heavy mail every day owing to the prominence given the case in the newspapers.

Those to Mr. Shiras are mostly begging letters, probably inspired by pictures of his big home here. One of them asked him for money to pay an instalment on a farm. Those to Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Newett for the most part are full of advice as to how the case should be properly conducted.

Additional witnesses for the plaintiff will be heard today. Tomorrow, Memorial day, will be observed as a holiday. Col. Roosevelt has under consideration a pressing invitation to address the veterans.

ALD. BROWN CAN'T MAKE CITY PAY

Judge Jenny Rules City Not Liable for Counsel Fees in Work Against Police Board in 1909

The case of Commissioner George H. Brown vs. City of Lowell, an action of contract in which plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $2,009 paid for attorneys' fees for services in the investigating charges against and removing members of the police board in 1909, was called in the jury waived session this afternoon. The accounts are as follows, annexed to the plaintiff's declaration:

1—Amount paid to Dennis J. Murphy for attorney's fees in matters relating to the charges against and removal of the members of the board of police of the city of Lowell in 1909	$1,000.00
2—Amount paid John W. McEvoy for attorney's fees in matters relating to the charges against and removal of members of board of police of the city of Lowell in 1909	1,000.00
3—Total	$2,000.00
4—Interest from Dec. 27, 1909, to January 12, 1911	125.40
5—Grand total	$2,125.40

Brown's Counsel Withdrew

Attorney J. Gilbert Hill, who was to have appeared for Commissioner Brown, sent in notice of his withdrawal as counsel for plaintiff, and as the case was about to go to trial, Mr. Brown undertook to prosecute his own case. City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy upheld the case of the defendant.

The first witness called was Charles E. Paige, city auditor, and he answered general questions regarding the bill and other bills of the city, saying the city had not refused to pay the bill and that he had issued a draft. He said the bills, however, were not approved by the committee on accounts.

The next witness was City Clerk Flynn, who complying with a request by Mr. Brown, read from the records of a council meeting an order covering department deficiencies as passed Dec. 22, 1909, in accordance with the custom followed under the old ordinance.

City Auditor Paige was then recalled to the stand and upon request of Mr. Brown read a bill for $250.00 for law services rendered the city under the board of health by N. D. Pratt.

Mr. Brown introduced the charter and ordinances passed in 1894, and in particular section 16, relating to the duties of the mayor. He expressed his intention of proving several things which would redound to his advantage in the case, but the court excluded the majority and Mr. Hennessy objected frequently.

Mr. Hennessy called the attention of the court to section 2 of chapter 11 of the charter of 1832, and in the charter of 1836, chapter 415, sections 4, 5 and 6, the first as to restriction on the mayor and the latter two to the other city officials. These sections had already been introduced by Commissioner Brown. Mr. Hennessy also submitted other sections of ordinances as evidences, and several former cases, including Smith vs. City of Lowell, and Muldoon vs. City of Lowell.

Mr. Brown then began his argument and summing up he said he is familiar with certain sections of the charter, Ch. 415, as introduced by counsel for the defense. He reviewed the city auditor's testimony, saying the council of 1909 did not refuse to pay the bill, but was careless. "If there was no appropriation the mayor would have had no authority at all, but there were appropriations and this was an incidental," said Mr. Brown. He read a section regarding incidentals which he called a "dumping ground" fund for bills and expenses for which there was no special appropriation. The committee on accounts had approved the bill, he said further and the city auditor issued a draft. "The city of Lowell did not refuse to pay the bill and now they contest it," he said. From the section regarding the mayor and appropriations, Mr. Brown argued that he had authority which covered the expenditure as made and consequently that he had authority to employ counsel.

Mr. Hennessy then arose and in regard to Mr. Brown's contention that he had authority, explained how the charter as revised never intended the mayor to be the head of any department, nor any particular office.

Mr. Brown then arose again and introduced section 7, chapter 415 of the ordinance regarding the mayor and city expenses. He argued that the government made an appropriation to cover the incidental fund and every other fund. He applied this to the departments. The section allowed the mayor authority of expenses only in specially certified cases.

BOY RUN OVER

His Head Gashed and His Jaw Broken —Taken to Hospital—He Lived on Howard Street

Wilfred Cogwill, aged about 10 or 12 years, who lives at 93 Howard street, was struck by an automobile on Middlesex street, near Thorndike, shortly after 12 o'clock. The machine was owned by Mrs. Chase, owner of the Fifield estate on Middlesex street.

It is said that the boy stepped out into the street in front of the machine and before he could get out of the way he was struck on the head and knocked to the street. He suffered a gash on the skull and fractured jaw. He was taken to St. John's hospital where at the time of going to press it was reported that he was resting as well as could be expected.

Gibson Jury Still Deliberates

NEWBURG, N. Y., May 29.—The 12 worn and weary jurors who have deliberated for 21 hours on the fate of Burton Gibson, the New York lawyer who is charged with the murder of his client, Mrs. Rosa M. BROWN CASE GOES TO GRAND JURY IN JUNE

Dist. Attorney Higgins Intends to Submit Case—No Further Investigation Necessary

A Sun representative yesterday questioned District Attorney John J. Higgins with reference to the case of Mayor James E. O'Donnell vs. Commissioner George H. Brown, the mayor charging Mr. Brown with having exceeded his appropriations in the street department in 1912. Asked as to the time of investigation, the district attorney said, "I shall in all probability take the case to the grand jury in June."

The district attorney said that the papers and copies of the records forming the chief evidence in the case had been sent to him and that consequently no further investigation of the case shall be carried on here, for none is necessary. In a letter to Mr. Higgins, Mayor O'Donnell advised him that the best and most complete information may be obtained from the city auditor, Charles B. Paige, and further that if he (the district attorney) preferred to send an expert accountant here, it would not take more than two days to establish the facts as alleged. However, according to the statements of Mr. Higgins in the interview of yesterday, it would appear that he deems an investigation of this kind here unnecessary and he said that all that is required is to have the papers and records enumerated by the mayor in his letter, sent to him. These include a transcript of the records of the city clerk of the city of Lowell in which are set forth the amounts of money to be expended by the commissioner in charge of the street department for the year 1912, a copy of an order adopted by the municipal council at its meeting on May 20, 1913, and a copy of the records of the meeting of the municipal council of May 14, 1913, setting forth the list of unpaid bills of the street department for 1912. All of the foregoing, the mayor stated in the communication of last week, tend to bear out the general charges.

LARCENY CASES HEARD

Sister Comes to Rescue of Man Who Stole $50

Several larceny cases were heard before Judge Enright in police court this morning. Henry Hopkins was in the docket, charged with the larceny of $52 from Eno Leduc. The defendant was clad in a huge felt hat of the sombrero type, corduroy jacket and heavy knee boots. The complaint was read to Hopkins and he immediately pleaded guilty. His sister told the court that she would settle what he had stolen from the complainant if he was placed on probation. Leduc readily agreed to this and the defendant was called before the bench. Judge Enright told him that he had intended to send him to the house of correction but that upon his sister's petition he had decided to give him another chance on condition that he pay back the money which his sister had paid the complainant. Hopkins promised faithfully to go back to work as soon as he was released. He was given a suspended sentence of five months to the house of correction.

Thomas Malnville, charged with the larceny of $6.30 from the local branch of the Loomfixers' union, 734, asked to have his case continued until next Thursday and the court granted him this privilege. He is out on bail.

Held in $300

James Rourke was found last night with eight couplings and ten pounds of lead in his possession and was locked up at the station as being a suspicious character. He was charged this morning with the larceny of the articles mentioned from some person or persons unknown and pleaded not guilty. His case was continued and he was held in $300 bail for his appearance before this tribunal on June 5th. As he could not obtain bail he was sent to the Lowell jail to await trial.

Truant Officer Thornton again had Theodore Maverakos in court this morning. He was charged with failing to provide the proper education for his boy, who is under sixteen years of age, and pleaded guilty. The boy had been working under another certificate, it developed. Upon his promise to see that his boy attended the next session of the nearest public school the case was continued for a month to see whether or not he will live up to his protestations.

George Sanderson, charged with drunkenness, was sent to jail for a week. Patrick O'Heir received a fine of $5 for his second offence for drunkenness. There were three releases by the probation officer.

AUTO HITS U. S. MAIL BOX

At Corner of Merrimack and Central Streets

An automobile said to be owned by Mrs. William Spaulding and in charge of F. Righter, crashed into the U. S. mail box at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets this afternoon and although no serious damage was done considerable excitement was caused. The machine was being driven down Merrimack street and as it turned into Central the young man lost control of the machine and it bumped into the mail box and then into the barber-sign, knocking both to the ground. The large barber-sign was spread across the sidewalk but the glass was not broken.

LOWELL AND WORCESTER

At Spaulding Park This Afternoon

In the midst of a terrific wind that drove the big drops of rain sharply into the faces of player, spectator and official alike, the baseball teams of Lowell and Worcester met in Spaulding park after having been prevented from crossing bats the past two days because of the inclement weather. There was quite a gathering of fans at the park and most of them heartily wished they had remained at home when they saw what was before them. However, they huddled down into the seats on the grand stand and made themselves as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, with the knowledge that the players and the umpire were even worse off than they.

Play was called a few minutes after 3 o'clock. The lineup:

Lowell	Worcester
Clemens cf	2b Nye
DeGroff rf	cf Steward
E. Miller 2b	ss Aubrey
Magee lf	rf Shotten
Halstein 1b	c Carroll
Monahan c	1b Wilson
Dee 3b	3b Miller
Anderson ss	lf Rose
Henderson p	p Wolfe

First Inning

Henderson passed Nye and Steward and Aubrey were retired by Anderson to Halstein. Shotten hit to Dee, who threw to Monahan at the plate, getting Nye. Carroll hit to Henderson, who threw to Miller, retiring Shotten on a force out.

Clemens flied out to Miller. DeGroff hit to center field and Miller did the same. Magee was safe on a bunt along the first base line and DeGroff scored on the play. Halstein slammed the ball to the center field fence for a full circuit, also scoring Miller and Magee. Monahan was put away by Nye to Wilson and Dee by Aubrey to Wilson.

Score—Worcester 0, Lowell 4.

Second Inning

Wilson doubled to center and Miller flied out to DeGroff. Rose drove one which hit Henderson in the leg, the ball bouncing to Miller; it was a hit and Wilson scored. Wolfe hit to Halstein, who threw to second, getting Rose. Nye hit to left field and with a beautiful throw to Dee, Magee caught Wolfe at third by three yards.

Anderson was safe on an error by Aubrey and Henderson hit into a double play, Anderson being put away by Nye to Aubrey and Henderson by Aubrey to Wilson. Clements was retired by Nye to Wilson.

Score—Worcester 1, Lowell 4.

At this point the game was suspended for a brief period to see if the rain would not let up.

Third Inning

Steward walked and advanced to second on Aubrey's hit to left field. Shotten went out. Dee to Halstein. Monahan made a bad throw in trying to catch Steward off second and Steward scored. Carroll walked and Wilson got a two-bagger scoring Carroll and Aubrey. Miller got a hit and Wilson came home. Monahan caught Miller trying to steal. Rose flied out to Halstein.

DeGroff doubled to left field and Miller was put away by Nye to Wilson. When Miller was at bat, DeGroff became doubled up between third and home and when hit in the back by a thrown ball, he scored. Magee hit to left field and was out. Carroll to Aubrey, trying to steal. Halstein drove a pretty one to right field but Monahan popped an easy one to Nye.

GRAND ARMY AND CIVIC SOCIETIES TO HONOR

HEROIC DEAD BY PARADE AND DECORATION OF GRAVES

With the advent of spring come thoughts of Memorial day, a day of memory as unique as it is beautiful. At a season when nature is fairest and sweetest, and the promise that seed time and harvest shall not fail is again renewed in a land of beauty and plenty and peace, we pause for a day to consider the sacrifice which made us what we are, and to express in flowers, as it were, our gratitude to the heroes who sleep beneath the mounds hallowed by their dust. As we twine the dainty blossoms into garlands we are uplifted and strengthened by the memory of what they did, and feel that we, too, can consecrate ourselves anew to the service of the country and of the vast brotherhood of which we are

ALL ENGLAND ASKS AND MENTIONS NAMES

PRINCE of WALES PLAYING GOLF — GRAND DUCHESS TATIANA

LONDON, May 29.—Whom will the Prince of Wales marry? All England is beginning to ask this question seriously, now that the heir to the throne is quite a man. The names of Princess Elizabeth of Roumania, the pretty daughter of the crown prince of that country, and of the Grand Duchess Tatiana of Russia have been mentioned by the court gossips. It is said that the former is favored by King George and Queen Mary and the latter by the dowager Queen Alexandra, the grand duchess being her grandniece. Princess Elizabeth is second cousin of the crown prince. Some say that bitterness has been engendered by the royal matchmakers. The name of Princess Olga, daughter of the czar, has also been mentioned.

SAVED ENGINEER'S LIFE

McCabe Took Mercury Tablets a Week Ago

DETROIT, May 29.—Thomas McCabe, a Detroit engineer who swallowed ten grains of bichloride of mercury a week ago, has fully recovered.

A solution of bicarbonate of soda injected into his viens by Dr. Andrew Sherman saved the life of the engineer, who took the poison because Charles B. Sanders Walker of Macon, Ga., said that death from its effects was painless.

"I believe that when this preparation is used in such cases a large per cent of them would be saved," said Dr. Sherman. "Injections can be made in any vein. I made eight punctures in all, the injections being given every five or six hours. Fourteen drachms of bicarbonate of soda in three pints of normal water was used. The thing of most importance in administering the treatment is to be certain the solution is absolutely aseptic, otherwise the patient would be killed by it."

After swallowing the poison and suffering intense agony McCabe decided he wanted to live and aided the physician in every way possible.

TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

Between Turkey and the Balkan Allies

LONDON, May 29.—It is practically certain that the treaty of peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies is to be signed at the foreign office by the peace delegates of the various states concerned tomorrow. Bulgaria and Turkey have definitely decided to sign the document in deference to the wishes of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and there is little doubt that the other three allies, Servia, Greece and Montenegro, will do likewise. Greece and Servia desire to add a protocol to the treaty as drafted by the European powers dealing with the question of amnesty and the conventions to be negotiated after peace shall have been concluded.

In Servia the speech made by the Servian premier yesterday in the parliament at Belgrade, when he explained that Servia desired a modification of the treaty with Bulgaria regarding the division of territory, is believed to have destroyed the hope of a peaceful settlement of the Servian and Bulgarian dispute.

The principal Servian peace delegation at London at noon today received a despatch from his government authorizing him to sign the preliminary treaty of peace with Turkey.

Tong Men Sign Treaty

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Hip Sings, the On Leongs and the Four Brothers—warring Tongs of Chinatown—signed a treaty of peace yesterday afternoon. Representatives of the three Tongs met in the chamber of Judge Foster of the court of general sessions.

Why Isaacs Resigned

LONDON, May 29.—The Jewish Express today states that Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, tendered his resignation on account of the controversy over the transactions by him and chancellor of the exchequer, Lloyd George in Marconi shares but that Premier Asquith declined to accept it.

ATTORNEYS CLASH AT WOOD TRIAL

Important Witnesses Heard—Case Adjourned Till Monday to Examine Books

BOSTON, May 29.—Orville Reddig, the chauffeur formerly employed by William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, appeared in court today when the trial of Wood, Frederick E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, charged with conspiracy to injure the cause of the textile strikers of Lawrence by "planting" dynamite, was resumed. Previous efforts of the state to locate Reddig had failed.

The presence of the much desired witness was disclosed in the testimony of the first witness, James R. Bailey, Jr., who when asked when he had last seen Reddig replied:

"I see him now."

"Do you mean to say you see him in this courtroom at the present time," exclaimed District Attorney Pelletier in apparent astonishment.

"Yes, sir."

Reddig Called to Stand

The prosecutor located the chauffeur among the spectators and a few moments later called him to the stand.

The state has repeatedly intimated an intention to establish, if the man could be found, that Reddig drove one of Wood's autos on a mysterious errand the night of January 19, 1912, when the dynimate was "planted."

Bailey, who was in charge of the American Woolen Co.'s end of the strike and who had testified earlier in the trial, said that he attended the conference of millmen at Wood's and over home on the night of January 19, 1912, at which Atteaux was also present. When he left he took with him copies of letters to the Lawrence newspapers and to Father Milanese, an Italian priest at Lawrence, in which the company's position was set forth over Wood's signature. He was quite sure that neither Charles E. Boivin, another chauffeur employed by Wood or Reddig, drove him from Andover to Lawrence. He did not see Collins, with whom the defendants are alleged to have conspired, John J. Breen and E. W. Pitman that night. He returned to Andover some time after midnight and slept at Wood's house. He had no conference with Wood. The next morning he went back to Lawrence.

"Did Reddig drive you to Lawrence in the morning?" asked the district attorney.

"He did not," answered Bailey.

After John Hogg, a director of the Woolen company, had testified he did not know Charles Hardy, an official of the company, and had no information concerning his whereabouts, the district attorney called Reddig.

Reddig Testifies

Reddig said he had not been in Wood's employ since last November, although he occupied a house on Wood's Andover estate. Questioned regarding his whereabouts during the past three days while the police have been trying to serve a summons on him Reddig said he had been motoring through southern New Hampshire looking over the territory preparatory to opening a garage.

He recalled his movements on the night of Jan. 19, 1912. He remembered the date, he said, because it was his birthday. That evening he drove Atteaux in a touring car from Boston to Andover. He spent the night at his own home. He did not take out his car the next morning, so far as he could remember.

After the witness had told of visiting New York, Muskegon, Mich., Detroit and Toledo, returning to Andover on Saturday the district attorney questioned him regarding his visit to Concord on Monday. Reddig said he stopped at the Eagle hotel, but did not write his address on the hotel register.

"Did you write your name?" he was asked.

"Part of it," he replied.

"Why didn't you write your whole name," asked the prosecutor.

"The clerk told me there were no rooms left."

"But you said you stopped at the Eagle house?"

"I did but it was at the Eagle house annex, which is a separate building farther down the street."

This ended Reddig's testimony and John E. White, desk manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. took the stand.

Mr. Pelletier asked the witness to give the record of the two numbers shown by the toll ticket to have been made on a certain date but Judge John C. Crosby excluded the question, although the district attorney said he only meant to show what offices were connected and not who talked at either end.

The jury was excused while the district attorney informed the court that he wished to offer the telephone ticket to show that on the forenoon of January 19, 1912, a telephone connection was made between the office of Atteaux in Boston and Pitman's office in Lawrence.

Former Congressman Samuel Powers of Wood's counsel objected to the district attorney speaking so loudly.

Attorneys Clash

"This will get into the newspapers" said Mr. Powers.

"I don't care if it does," said Mr. Pelletier, "but if the court wishes to make an order it can do so."

Judge Crosby said that the jury had been excluded and that as he had already instructed them not to read the papers he would not act.

The district attorney also said he desired to offer telephone records to show that on Jan. 18, 1912, a connection was made between the Boston offices of the woolen company and Breen's place of business at Lawrence.

The district attorney announced that two government witnesses, Francis Kittredge and George E. Bullard, both directors of the woolen company, would not be examined in court as they were in ill health and had stated under oath that they knew nothing of the whereabouts of Charles A. Hardy.

To Examine Books

Mr. Pelletier then asked that an adjournment be taken until Monday in order that an examination of the books of the American Woolen Co. might be made by his assistant at the company's offices. He also said he had hopes of being able to locate Hardy before Monday.

Judge Crosby granted the adjournment after stating that the sessions next week would begin at nine thirty in the morning and until 4.30.

POLICE OFFICER O'KEEFE

Is Suspended by Mayor O'Donnell

Mayor O'Donnell, this afternoon, submitted to the press his findings in the case of Patrolman Cornelius O'Keefe for alleged violation of Rule 19 in the arrest of one John W. Stocks. It will be remembered that Mr. Stocks brought suit against the police officer and, yesterday, withdrew the suit. The mayor finds that while the officer acted in good faith he erred in judgment and he imposes a suspension of seven days. The mayor's finding is as follows:

Mayor's Office,
Lowell, Mass.
May 29, 1913.

Redmond Welch,
Supt. of Police.

Dear Sir: On May 9, a hearing was held before me on a charge preferred against Officer Cornelius O'Keefe by John W. Stocks, for alleged violation of Rule 19, conduct unbecoming an officer, to which charge Officer O'Keefe pleaded not guilty.

From the evidence offered it would appear that on May 5th about midnight John W. Stocks and other men stood at or near the corner of Gorham and Winter streets. Officer O'Keefe approaching on the opposite side of the street heard one of the men accost a woman who was passing and understood her to reply: "None of your business." Crossing the street the officer ordered the men to move on and approached the man who addressed the woman, saying: "Can't a lady walk along the street without being insulted." Stocks started to explain what had happened previously whereupon the officer ordered him to go home. Stocks declined to go and the officer placed his hands upon him. Stocks remonstrated and the officer then took him to the box under arrest charging him with drunkenness. Upon appearing before Captain Atkinson, in the police station, Stocks who was not drunk was immediately released. Stocks stated furthermore that the officer in making the arrest assaulted him, and showed bruises on his head and face to bear out his statement.

Evidence was also presented to the effect that several complaints have been made to the police by women who were accosted and insulted while passing through that vicinity at night, and that Officer O'Keefe had been instructed to be particularly alert for such infractions of the law.

Taking into consideration the locality, the time of night and the fact that several men were assembled there, I believe that Officer O'Keefe was justified in ordering the men to move on. Mr. Stocks, who is a young man of sobriety and good habits, knowing that he was innocent of any wrongdoing, resented the officer's peremptory order to go home, and expostulated, his manner probably leading the officer to believe that he had been drinking.

Had Mr. Stocks obeyed the officer's instruction, undoubtedly the arrest would not have been made, while if Mr. Stocks felt that he was being ill-treated he could have sought redress from the proper authorities.

The police officer is the friend and protector of the public rather than its enemy. He wears a uniform in order that all may know he is the guardian of the community's peace and as such is vested with more powers than the ordinary citizen. As an officer his orders should be respected. If he errs, the law, and the rules of the police department, offer ample opportunity for redress.

In this case I find that Officer O'Keefe acted in good faith but erred in judgment, and used more force than was necessary in making the arrest. It seems from the reports and messages received by me from citizens, taxpayers and merchants in the district covered by Officer O'Keefe, that he has been a particularly efficient officer, while I have also been informed that Mr. Stocks is disposed to be lenient toward him, and has withdrawn the criminal proceedings instituted by him against the officer. With all of these facts in mind, I am disposed to overlook his error of judgment in making the arrest, but hereby impose a suspension for seven days for using undue force.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor and Commissioner of Public Safety.

NEVER PLANNED BIG MONOPOLY

Judge Gary, Chairman of Steel Corporation, Testifies Neither He Nor Morgan Considered it

NEW YORK, May 29.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation and the man who conducted many of the negotiations which led to its organization, declared on the witness stand yesterday that neither he, the late J. P. Morgan nor anybody else concerned had ever in the course of these negotiations discussed the question of obtaining a monopoly in the steel industry or of suppressing competition.

Judge Gary was testifying as a witness for the defense in the hearings of the suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The witness spent the entire day in a detailed recital of the circumstances which led to the formation of the corporation and endeavored to show that the sole purpose that actuated its organizers was to obtain "a rounded-out, self-contained, proposition, complete in every phase of manufacture from the mining of ore to the production of diversified finished products in the mills with the ability to reduce costs to the most economical basis and particularly to develop an export trade.

"Our effort," he said emphatically, "has been to extend trade and to foster competition and we have done that."

With equal emphasis, Judge Gary denied that the steel corporation had been over-capitalized as alleged by the government. The various properties acquired "were all worth the price that was paid for them," he declared, while the ore properties of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron mines, John D. Rockefeller's concern, were obtained, "it has since been proved, at a very low price," he said. He denied that the Federal Steel company, the nucleus around which the corporation was found, was a monopoly in itself, as alleged by the government, and called attention to the fact that when the Federal and some of the other steel companies, now subsidiaries of the corporation, were investigated by the industrial commission of congress in 1898 no complaint was entered against them by the department of justice or any other branch of the government.

"If all these subsidiaries were monopolies when taken over, as alleged, were you aware of it?" asked R. V. Lindabury, the corporation attorney.

"I was not. I had personal knowledge that the companies that went into the American Steel and Wire company had been in competition but I did not regard it a monopoly. We did not take over any of these companies on the theory that they were monopolies or that through their instrumentality we could restrain trade."

The organization of the corporation was precipitated, Judge Gary said, by the desire of the Federal Steel company, J. P. Morgan flotation to perfect a "rounded out" organization. This opportunity came when Andrew Carnegie offered to sell the Carnegie Steel company.

The Federal had previously refused several proffers of the Carnegie Steel company and had attempted to raise $40,000,000 to build new plants of its own. The attempt was abandoned, he said, when Charles M. Schwab outlined to Mr. Morgan the advantages of acquiring a then existing property. Mr. Morgan was "impressed" and called in the directors of the Federal Steel company.

Judge Gary described the meeting of the directors at Mr. Morgan's office and laid emphasis on the financier's desire to know whether it "was a good business proposition" and that nothing concerning the suppression of competition was said.

EMPLOYES OF FOSS SHOP QUIT

Men Went Out on Strike This Morning—Higher Wages and Shorter Hours Refused

BOSTON, May 29.—Eighteen hundred men quit work this morning when the officials of the Sturtevant blower works refused to grant their demands for higher wages and shorter working hours. The Sturtevant plant has among its officials the name of Governor Eugene N. Foss.

The blast of a whistle on a nearby factory which is always sounded at 8 o'clock was the signal for the men to quit. Immediately a majority of them dropped their tools and started for the doors. Some did not stop even to change to street clothes but went out in their overalls and jumpers.

The strikers left behind about 300 employes, including 100 in the offices. Others who remained were the moulders and coremakers, who have an agreement with the company which does not expire until August. Those employes stated that the agreement could be considered as broken if the company employed non-union help. While on the way to the Opera House for a meeting the men were cheered by the help in other factories. No disturbances are anticipated.

AT SUPERIOR COURT

The Case of Coughlin vs. Swain Still on Trial

In the superior civil court session which reopened at half past nine this morning, the defense in the case of Coughlin & Swain put on witnesses. The case arose out of alleged misrepresentations by the defendant in the sale of some land in Wilmington to Mr. Coughlin. The defense placed on the stand several witnesses, including Mr. Kelley and Mr. Burroughs, real estate men, and several others. The first two in the course of their testimony spoke of the condition, location and value of the land in question and estimated its value throughout at $40 per acre. They were examined directly by Mr. William Wilson of McIntyre and Wilson who represent the defense and District Attorney Higgins who appears for the plaintiff, cross-examined them.

There were two divorce cases. The first was that of Slaris vs. Slaris, on grounds of desertion, and in this case the libelee defaulted by non appearance, A. O. Hamel for the libellant.

The other divorce suit was that of Harriet Good vs. Henry Good, brought on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and intoxication and in this case also the libelee defaulted. Attorney John J. McClure represented the libellant in this case.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE

part and which includes all mankind.

Tomorrow will be Decoration day and a little extra is being done this year to add to the spirit and reverence of the occasion. The daughters and grand-daughters of veterans will take part in the parade and, by request of Mayor O'Donnell, the police will turn out as escort in full dress uniform.

Stores, public buildings, mills and factories will close and the voice of industry will be hushed as the workers fare forth on their errands of love, and whether to some imposing city of the dead, or to some lowly mound in God's acre in a secluded village, each takes of his best, for is not love the grandest thing in the world?

Foremost to claim our attention are the veterans of the long-ago time when the national life was imperilled. Fifty years have changed the boys of the sixties, and as they place their tributes over the hearts of their comrades of yore, visions of the past rise before their fading sight, and they are young again.

The one thing we notice most of all is that each year the line grows shorter, and were it left to these men the beautiful custom of strewing flowers would soon wane, but as one by one they pass, their places are taken by scores of younger men and women who will not suffer their memories to be forgotten. A younger generation of veterans is also seen participating in the observance of Memorial day, and to many of them the day has a double meaning, for while they do honor to their comrades, many of them are also the sons of the soldiers of the Civil war.

Most encouraging of all is the fact that the children, the little citizens of the future, are being taught the meaning of Memorial day. In the schools, today, a portion of time was set apart for appropriate exercises and at some of the schools gray-haired veterans were privileged to address the children. They told the story o'er and o'er again—the story that gains in sublimity and significance with the passing years. Everywhere patriotic workers are alert to the wealth of meaning which the season symbolizes, and the continuance of the exquisite custom is assured.

Miss Ostrander told relatives she met Morrison six years ago and during that time he took her to many places of amusement and gave her several substantial presents. Before Morrison began courting Miss Ostrander he had two wives. Two years after he began to pay her attentions he married again. He also found time to pay his respects to another woman, a widow who says she was to have married him next month. She gave Morrison $1600. FOR APPOINTMENT OF ASSESSORS

Rep. Victor Francis Jewett, of this city, at a meeting of the republican legislative campaign committee, held yesterday afternoon, was made one of the six members of the executive committee.

The assessors' bill to provide that assessors in cities and towns shall be appointed subject to confirmation by the tax commissioner was rejected in the house yesterday afternoon by a vote of 105 to 25.

The house passed the bill providing for an appropriation of $250,000 for the Massachusetts exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exhibition. Attempts were made to cut the appropriation to $150,000, but there was nothing doing.

In the senate Senator Fisher of Westford moved to amend the bill relative to contracting marriages by providing that it shall not take effect till January 1, 1914. The amendment was adopted and the bill, as amended, was passed to be engrossed. Senator Fisher said that his amendment will prevent any interference with the making of annual reports.

Under the bill the parties to the contract are required to make oath to the city or town clerk who issues the license that there are no legal impediments to such marriage. Whoever falsely swears shall be punished under the statute governing perjury.

Tenement House Bill

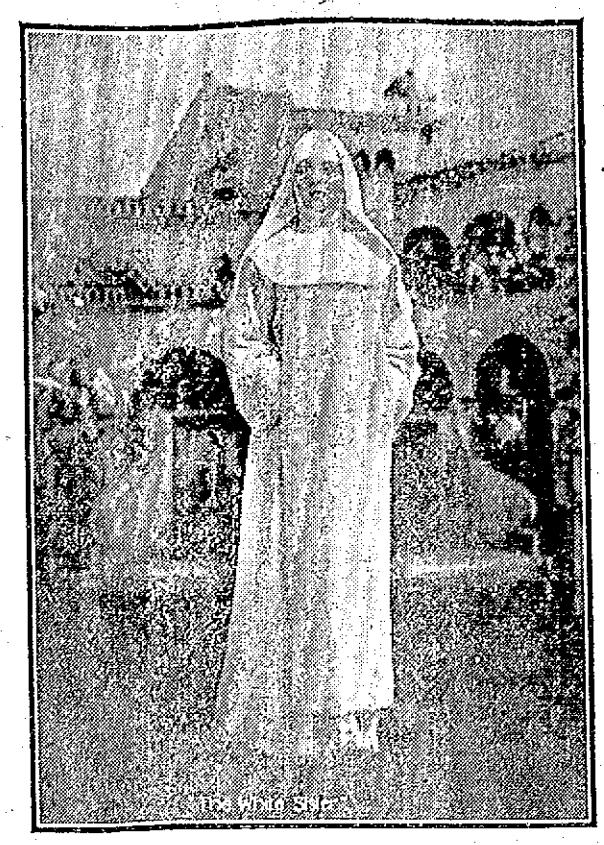

Senator Bazeley moved to amend the tenement house bill for cities to provide that it shall take effect the first day of October, 1913. The amendment was adopted and the bill engrossed.

Senator Allen of Melrose had taken from the table the bill to provide for the construction of a tunnel and subway from Sullivan square through Everett and Malden. He stated he would offer a redraft of the bill to be printed and consideration was put over to the next session.

Senator Fisher had the enactment of the bill for an investigation of the service of street railway companies reconsidered to put on an amendment that such investigation be limited to street railways in the metropolitan park district. The amendment was adopted and sent to the house for its concurrence.

To Build Cup Defender

BRISTOL, R. I., May 29.—"Nat" Herreshoff, designer of many successful defenders of the America's cup will probably build a candidate for the defense of the cup next year against Sir Thomas Lipton, and a syndicate made up of former Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, C. Oliver Iselin and some of the other older members of the New York Yacht club will furnish the funds. That Mr. Herreshoff has expressed a willingness to accept a commission from the syndicate was learned last night on his return from New York after a long conference requested by members of the New York Yacht club who have been prominent in financing other cup racers.

"THE WHITE SISTER."

In Which Grace Young and Company are Appearing at the Merrimack Square Theatre This Week.

Merrimack Square Theatre

Some of the largest crowds which have ever visited the Merrimack Square theatre since its formal opening have witnessed the performances of the most enjoyable play, "The White Sister" there this week. It contains many good roles all of which are capably handled by the company while Miss Grace Young in the title role is par excellence.

Next week is to be the last of their offerings until fall and for their "good-by" play, Manager Carroll has selected a gripping and sensational drama in four acts called "A Young Wife." It is a story of New York life in which love, hate and intrigue run riot and has an abundance of wholesome comedy which should appeal to all. For week June 9 a vaudeville bill of unusual merit is being arranged.

B. OF R. T. CONVENTION

Vote to Change Insurance Methods

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in convention here yesterday approved a change in the organization's insurance methods. All policies hereafter will be paid in full when the holders reach the age of 70. Proposals to adopt a form of paid-up insurance, such as that offered by regular companies, and also to make the loss of one eye total disability, was defeated.

A new policy for $2000 available after August 1, was agreed to and the two lower grades of policies now in effect were raised $50 and $100 respectively. The increases will be added August 1.

President W. G. Lee announced last night that the convention would not vote as an organization upon the question of a strike on the eastern roads, but that a referendum vote would be taken by the lodges of the eastern division beginning June 15.

House Democrats Will Caucus Monday

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Democrats of the house will caucus next Monday to consider a resolution to limit legislation during the extra session to tariff, currency and possible emergency appropriations and to pass upon committee assignments. Democratic Leader Underwood, who will present the committee selections of all three parties, also is expected to introduce the resolution outlining the house program for the session.

The call for the caucus was issued yesterday by Rep. Palmer of Pennsylvania, chairman.

A call for a republican caucus next Saturday afternoon will be issued today by Republican Leader Mann. The purpose is to consider the republican assignments to committees as framed by Mr. Mann, although the leader has full authority to determine them without caucus approval if he chooses.

The house progressives, with 10 of their total of 19 present met in open caucus yesterday approving the committee assignments framed by their leader, Representative Murdock of Kansas, and adopting a resolution asking progressive men and women of all parties to join the progressive party.

DETECTIVE FINED $125

Found Guilty of Carrying Concealed Weapon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—Robert J. Foster, a detective employed by the National Erectors' association during the investigation of the "dynamite conspiracy," was found not guilty of assaulting Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Association in criminal court here yesterday. Foster was fined $125, however, upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons and of drawing deadly weapons.

Early in the dynamite investigation Ryan alleged Foster had assaulted him and caused his arrest upon charges of trespass, assault and battery and the two charges upon which the detective was found guilty. Judge Moore in the criminal court held there was no evidence to show that Foster was trespassing at the headquarters of the iron workers nor that he had assaulted Ryan, who was the prosecuting witness against the detective.

ENJOYED BANQUET

Members of Co. C Spent Pleasant Evening at Armory—Musical Program Followed Repast

The members of Co. C Sixth regiment, M. V. M., held a banquet in the mess hall of the armory in honor of the recent victory of the athletic teams of this popular company. There was a large attendance and the menu was A1.

At the close of the repast which was fully enjoyed, Capt. George W. Peterson, who was chosen as toastmaster, rapped to order and in a few remarks complimented the winning teams. He then called upon the different captains of the said teams, who expressed themselves in appropriate terms. The speakers were Private McGarr, captain of the basketball team; Private Bagley, captain of the shooting team, and Sergt. O'Brien, captain of the bowlers.

This was followed by a varied musical program, those taking part being Mascot Burns, Privates Angus, Brick, Ready and Moyer, and the quartet composed of Sergt. Doherty, Sergt. Crowe, Sergt. Kent and Corp. Manning.

"Spring Fever"

—a sort of "weak in the knees" feeling sometimes comes with the first warm days—

A sign of played-out nerves

It is a "let down" of nerve force, following months of high tension in resisting cold weather.

Nerves need nutrition—specialized nutrition which builds and maintains nerve cells to highest efficiency.

The vital and necessary constituents of all brain and nerve cells, are wafer, albumin and organic Phosphate of Potash.

Water and albumin in generous quantities are supplied in every day food.

Phosphate of Potash, on the other hand, is often lacking.

The lack of this necessary element is usually just the difference between nerve strength and nerve weakness.

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

—made of choice wheat and malted barley, contains the necessary Phosphate of Potash in true organic form. Grape-Nuts is easily digested by even the weakest stomach and its crisp, sweet, appetizing granules, served with cream, make an ideal breakfast.

Dr. Arnold Lorand

Physician to the Baths, Carlsbad, Austria,

In his recently published book, "Health Through Rational Diet," from the press of the F. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, says:

As a breakfast food another variety of the healthful cereals which are much used in America would be advantageous. Grape-Nuts, in which the floury substance has been dextrinized by long baking and thus rendered digestible and easy of assimilation, is eaten with cream and would be a useful addition to our usual breakfast.

The recommendation of this eminent European authority to the wealthiest health seekers in the world (those who frequent the famous baths of Carlsbad) is especially interesting to Americans.

While Grape-Nuts may be a "health luxury" in Europe, this sturdy health-giving food is within the reach of practically every American at trifling cost.

"THERE'S A REASON"

FOR GRAPE-NUTS

You Are SAFE When You Buy at RIKER-JAYNES

OF INTEREST TO THE CONSUMER OF CIGARS AND CIGARETTES

Take Advantage of the Cut Prices AT THE RIKER-JAYNES STORES

The American Tobacco Company has seen fit to publicly announce withdrawal of terms formerly in force in relation to Cigars and Cigarettes with the Riker-Hegeman-Jaynes Drug Stores in New York and New England.

The alleged reason for this act of the American Tobacco Company is the reduction of prices at Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores to the consumer of products owned or controlled by the American Tobacco Company.

When—a few months ago—the United Cigar Stores Company made a general indirect reduction on prices of certain Cigarettes and Imported Cigars, no opposition from the American Tobacco Company was apparent.

But when the Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores, in following out their lifelong policy, reduced Cigar and Cigarette prices to a point "as low as or a little lower than the same goods could be obtained elsewhere," coupons considered, then cut prices became a crime and the American Tobacco Company, after trying to persuade the Riker-Jaynes Stores to restore their prices to a point a little in excess of prices made on same articles by the United Cigar Stores Company (coupons considered) endeavored to force them to do so by the withdrawal of former discounts.

The Riker-Jaynes Stores can better afford to lose these discounts than to sacrifice the consumers' interest or violate the confidence of the public by abandoning a policy which forms one of the chief foundation stones of their business.

The Riker-Jaynes Stores take pleasure in notifying the public that reduced prices on Cigars and Cigarettes are still in force.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial days come and go, and with the passing of the years they lose something of the meaning that made them so significant to the people of other days. A time there was when those who will march tomorrow in faltering ranks marched in view of thousands who were fully familiar with their sacrifice and their glory; the steps that are now wavering and slow were then alert and vigorous; those who applauded them were their parents, brothers, wives and sweethearts who had seen them march forth to war and had welcomed them home victorious, and among those who applauded there were some who wept for sons who had gone to return no more.

Among those who will see them march tomorrow to decorate the graves of their comrades who have answered the roll call of eternity will be many to whom the war is only a memory, something aloof and indefinite, something that belongs to the dead past. But in the hearts of the veterans it is still a reality; each succeeding Memorial day brings it back vividly; thrilled by the solemnity of the occasion and touched by memories of the dead brothers whom they will vividly call to mind; the present will vanish and they will again rush forth in fresh enthusiasm in their splendid sacrificial patriotism to fight the battles of their country.

It is not surprising then that there has been a protest against celebrations which are alien to the character of the occasion. To many it is a day of rejoicing but to those most interested, it is a day of tragic, if heroic, memories. Though sport lovers will regard it as a gala occasion, there will be many who will fittingly regard it reverently as a holy day, consecrated by sublime sacrifices and the noblest of patriotic recollections.

In our enjoyment of liberty and sense of national security, let us not forget on tomorrow that we owe it largely to the men who will go with slow and thoughtful mein from graveyard to graveyard. Let us not be indifferent. Let us give them the honor that is their due. They were tried and were not found wanting when the country needed strong hands and brave hearts. Before it is too late let us show our children an object lesson in practical patriotism. Let us explain to them the meaning of the thinning lines of veterans on Memorial day to the silent camps of those who have fought the battles of life and have gone to their eternal sleep.

WALKING CLUBS

It is very singular that the modern tendency towards athletics has not popularized the splendid and beneficial habit of long walks. The advantages of such are so obvious and so generally admitted that it ought to be unnecessary to enumerate them and yet the roads stretch out in every direction with no groups of pedestrians to break their monotony. Automobiles indeed speed along the busy thoroughfares, but the crowds of young men and young women who should be walking abroad on Saturday or Sunday afternoon, or in the delightful evening time, are lounging at street corners or cooped up in the unhealthful air of congested homes or crowded club rooms.

From the merely athletic point of view walking is one of the very best exercises possible. It tones up the system, gives necessary relaxation, relieves the tension of mind which most people contract in business, gives a hearty appetite and prepares the body for sound and refreshing sleep. Besides this, it may be made a source of genuine pleasure. The man who enjoys the theatre, or moving pictures may, with a cultivated observation, see and hear sights and sounds on a walk of a few miles that no theatre can duplicate. He can go into the country where the ever changing panorama of earth and sky will delight and refresh his city-dulled senses. He can hear the sound of the winds, the murmurs of the trees, the carols of birds, the tinkling of hidden streams, and to him who has heard them and understood their harmonies, no other music can be sweeter.

Walking is an aid to the club spirit in its best sense. At no time does conversation flow more naturally than when two or more swing along with the refreshing breeze in their faces and the road stretching ahead. Thought keeps time with the feet, and the judgment and understanding become keen. It is then most desirable that in all large cities, walking clubs should be formed, not for the purpose of testing endurance or making records, but for the revival of interest in walking as a mode of real enjoyment. This is the season, and we have the material for such clubs in abundance. Our athletic societies and fraternal bodies should take the matter up. A greater appreciation of walking as an exercise and a pastime would have an immediate effect on those wise enough to avail themselves of its advantages.

TOO LATE

Whenever there has been a great public calamity the people clamor for prompt investigations that the responsibility may be fixed. This is a praiseworthy tendency but unfortunately it generally comes too late. If the promptness by which public accidents are investigated, and the perseverance by which they are conducted, were displayed before these accidents take place, much public suffering and anguish of mind could be averted. A recent case is the collapse of the municipal pier at Long Beach, California, which has cost 37 lives and injured many people.

Although the inquest may fix the responsibility for the accident and result in the punishment of those criminally negligent, its greatest and most far-reaching good will be in emphasizing the fact that though the supports were rotten in many places, the authorities were indifferent until a great calamity had held their negligence up to the gaze of the entire country. In all cities there are municipal properties which should be frequently overlooked for the public welfare. It is too late to investigate when some great calamity fills the country with horror.

CAT AND MOUSE LAW

Home Secretary McKenna's so-called "cat and mouse law" has been put into effect against Mrs. Pankhurst, and it looks like a practical solution of the problem that confronted the government with regard to the hunger strikes of the militant suffragettes. It will now be possible for the government to re-arrest a prisoner who had starved herself out of prison, and repeat the process until her term is completed. In this way suffragettes out on parole may be arrested whenever they are about to take part in any notable gathering, and their influence for violence is seriously hampered. If the suffragettes tried the patience of the government the cat and mouse law promises to try the patience of the suffragettes. They may now find it more advisable to serve out the original sentence.

DIPHTHERIA

The fact that there are 14 cases of diphtheria in Centralville at the present time is a serious one, and the local board of health should lose no time in getting to the root of the trouble. The Billings Street school—where seven cases have been reported—should be closely watched and any further outbreak there should be met by prohibitive measures. Although some members of the board of health think that the infection is a neighborhood one due to contact, the milk supply should be immediately investigated. Recent outbreaks here were allowed to spread alarmingly, and our health authorities should see to it that nothing is left undone which would prevent a repetition of former regrettable conditions.

INDIAN ORCHARD ROAD

It is very gratifying to find that the county commissioners are considering the question of aiding the city in constructing a macadam road from Centralville bridge to the Dracut line via Indian Orchard, to connect with the new state highway to Lawrence which is nearing completion. The city is desirous of making that portion within the city limits worthy of the fine highway of which it will be a link, but the cost is prohibitive, unless part of it is borne by the state and county. It is to be hoped that the commissioners will get authority to act favorably in the matter.

AS TO STREET OILS

There are various kinds and qualities of street oil. Commissioner Donnelly has not seen fit to secure the poorest or cheapest for our streets, but the taxpayers expect that he has selected the kind best suited for the streets of Lowell and the kind that is best worth the amount paid for it. There are street oils no better than soapsuds and it would be wrong to buy them at any price.

Nothing better for the stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands say they owe their lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs. O. Rhinevault, of Vestal Center, N. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by A. W. Dows & Co.

Seen and Heard

When Sir Isaac Newton's brother was a child he found another boy ill-treating a toad, and remonstrated vigorously.

"Don't do that," he protested. "Let it alone. It's not your toad."

"Whose toad is it, then?" demanded the other boy defiantly. "It's not yours."

"Why, of course, it's its own toad," was the unanswerable argument of the young humanitarian.

Robert M. Pindell, Jr., chief clerk of the department of commerce and labor in Washington, seldom gets home in time to eat dinner with his family because the press of his work keeps him at his desk until long after everybody else has left the building. Mrs. Pindell always puts his dinner in the warming oven, where he finds it when he arrives.

One night he reached home after the family had gone to bed, and found his lunch on top of the stove. Next morning his wife opened the oven and discovered that the food she had left for him had not been touched.

"Why, Robert," she asked, "didn't you eat your supper last night?"

"My dear," he replied, "I did, and enjoyed it very much, but you made a mistake and left it on top of the stove."

"Good Heavens!" she cried. "That was the dog's supper."

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Need For Caution

Brockton Enterprise: The automobile ought to be used with caution on rainy days. Not only on such days is it likely to skid and hurt those in it, but it has great ability for damaging the clothes of those who may be near the machine when it hits a puddle. There were several cases noted last week in this city where people got a splashing of this kind that did their clothes no good, ruffled their tempers and placed them in the list of those who are enemies to the auto and its owners. Any man who is running an auto knows perfectly well that when he drives his machine close to the sidewalk, or close to the side of the road if he's running on a country turnpike, and the roadway is full of puddles, he is bound to spatter pedestrians if he rushes along at speed and sends his machine right through the mud.

Pocket Money

Lynn News: The question of pocket money for boys is one which at various times agitates the thoughts of parents. In a concrete way this matter came up in Chicago recently. A boy of 15 was arrested for stealing. In court it was made evident that he had been earning $1.15 a day, and that all of this had gone to his father, the boy being allowed none for his own use. Consequently the stealing. The judge released the boy on probation, and ordered the father to give him an allowance of ten cents a week. That amount should not be missed very much by the parents, and is certainly not enough to lead the boy into mischief. Whether it is enough to keep him from stealing from freight cars only time will show.

Democratic Outlook

Johnstown Democrat: The McKinley bill, that fostered the trusts and ignored the interests of the people, gave the democrats a majority of 150 in the house; and what the Taft-Payne law did to the party of the predatory interests would be cruel to mention.

If the people in their impatience desert the standard of true democracy because the democratic party was faithful to the trust reposed in it, then it will be the people and not the party that will suffer.

The Whipping Post

Fall River Globe: Canada has prescribed the whipping post as a feature of the course of treatment to be administered to the vile wretches who are convicted of being engaged in the white slave traffic there. If there is a crime for which that sort of punishment can be justifiably recommended it is that and in applying it the guilty ones should be literally flogged within an inch of their lives.

Prize Fighting

Burlington Free Press: It is true that fewer men are killed in the prize ring than in aviation meets and automobile races, but there is a distinction between killings. It can make little difference to the victim whether he falls from a monoplane or is hit over the heart by an opponent in a prize fight as was the case with Luther McCarty in Calgary Saturday. There is a difference to society, however. When a man dies in the prize ring, it is because another man has killed him. Spectacles of this kind are too terrible for society to tolerate. Boxing is one thing. Prize fighting in the brutal form it invariably takes, is quite another thing.

Carnegie's Change

Foster's Democrat: According to testimony at the steel hearing the Laird of Skibo has not always loved to have the dove of peace about. A letter dated Jan. 2, 1899, and said to have been written by him was read, and one striking passage is as follows: "Here is a historic situation for the managers to study Richelieu's advice: First, all means to conciliate; failing that, all means to crush." So it would seem that in his business affairs at that period, Mr. Carnegie was ready to deliver a knockout blow, if others were not willing to accede to his wishes.

LOWELL CEMETERY

Many Improvements During the Year—What One of the Managers Says of Memorial Day

One of the management of the Lowell cemetery says, "Lot owners and others who go to the Lowell cemetery on Memorial day will find the grounds in more beautiful appearance than ever before at this season of the year. There are two reasons. There has been an unusual amount of new work done since last Memorial day and the cold season has so held back the growing of grass that the men have had more than usual time to do an unusual amount of called for repair work. Moreover there appears to be an unusual amount of advance orders for flowers and plants for decoration of graves and lots. The old custom of bouquet placing is being supplanted by wire basket arrangement so contrived with the use of moss that the decoration is more lasting. At a cost of a dollar a very nice display can be made. I understand that the Grand Army people will give up the use of flowers the coming Memorial day, confining the attention to planting of the American flag in its iron standard. Given as an individual opinion for what it may be worth, I should say the disuse of flowers is to be regretted. The iron sign idea has been robbed of much of its fine sentiment by being imitated by about every other existing organization, so that in case of some graves of distinguished citizens who have passed on, the collection of hardware denoting the several organizations to which the worthy man belonged, gives the idea of a good thing—or a bad thing, whichever way one may view the custom, as overdone. However there is no accounting for tastes, exemplified in many other ways in every cemetery in the land. In the course of time, these iron signs unless they are kept in repair by paint will rust themselves away and eventually must go to the scrap-heap.

"The water supply at the Lowell cemetery is deficient in some portions of the grounds. This will be met by placing water barrels at convenient points. As a whole the Lowell cemetery will be found beautiful and certainly a credit to the city of Lowell. The management extends welcome to all our people, that is to all who go there with proper feeling and those who will conduct themselves properly while there."

"The protest that is being made against the misuse of Memorial day seems to me not without justification. I would not expect to see a community make the day one of sadness, but it does seem as though one or two hours of the day could be and should be devoted in remembrance of our dead, all the dead. For one, I am glad to hang up my baseball bat, and slow up my automobile for that length of time. I feel that I owe it to the dead, my dead, and I love to believe that my children will follow in the same thought.'

MAY CUT FAMOUS OLD ASTOR HOUSE IN TWO; HISTORIC HOTEL'S DOOM SEALED BY SUBWAY

NEW YORK, May 29.—The famous old Aster House, for years visited by notables from all parts of the world, will be closed today for good. The final curtain on the historic hostelry may be rung down in an odd manner, however. There is a possibility that the half of the hotel owned by William Waldorf Astor will be left standing, while the half belonging to the estate of John Jacob Astor, the Titanic victim, will be torn down about June 15. This is why: The public service commission signed an agreement with the estate of John Jacob Astor, which owns the southern half of the building, to buy a perpetual easement beneath it in return for a payment of $600,000 and to construct a wall from bed rock along the Broadway and Vesey street sides of the lot, which will be strong enough to hold any building which the estate may decide to put up. The original line of the new subway was laid out by the commission's engineers so as to cut across one corner of the northern half of the hotel, owned by William Waldorf Astor. It has been found possible, however, to divert the subway so as to avoid this property. The John Jacob Astor estate will start the demolition of the southern half of the building, but nothing was known at the offices of the public service commission as to the plans of William Waldorf Astor. He will be left with half of an antiquated hotel standing and some lots adjoining it, running through from Barclay street to Vesey street. There is probably more history, tradition, tragedy and comedy associated with the weather stained, gray stoned old Astor House than with any other old building in New York. John Jacob Astor, the founder of the Astor family in America, bought the plot and in the early thirties decided, much to the alarm of some conservative old Knickerbockers, to erect there the finest hotel on the western continent. The cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1834. It took three years to erect the building, and the original cost was $70,000. Perhaps there is no place in America where during the march of years so many celebrities from every field of endeavor have gathered. There has been murder, theft and suicide between those grim stone walls. Some of the bitterest political campaigns of American history have been planned there. A year after the place was opened Nathaniel Hawthorne and Charles Dickens registered there, and only a few months later Washington Irving spent several weeks there while on a visit to New York. Every president of the United States since the Civil war, excepting William H. Taft, has had at least one meal in the Astor House. In the parlors upstairs the campaigns of Henry Clay, Zachary Taylor and Winfield Scott were organized. Edgar Allan Poe, who in 1841 edited Graham's Magazine, dropped into the Astor House daily to pick up news. On the Astor steps Louis Kossuth bade adieu to America, and the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales, with the Grand Duke Alexis, bowed from those steps to the crowds. Thackeray passed in and out of the hotel entrance, and down those steps P. T. Barnum escorted Jenny Lind to her coach, and Macready followed.

SPECULATORS BUSY AT BILLERICA

Preempting the Most Desirable Land—Great Activity at B. & M. Shop—Town News

The chief topic of discussion in the town of Billerica at the present time is the coming sale of the McGlone farm, which it is stated has attracted the attention of many real estate men all over New England.

This farm is situated very near the new car shops and also on the proposed route of the extension of the South Lowell car line. It has been the property of the McGlone family since 1833. The farm contains about 100 acres of fine land, and the real estate men have their eyes on it, for it is well adapted to be divided into house lots.

The writer was told yesterday that a number of the residents of Billerica are about to form a real estate company, for they feel it is not fair to let outsiders come into their town and secure all the best property. One man said: "We worked hard to get the Boston & Maine Co. to build their car shops in this town, and this we did for our own interest and not to make a good thing for out-of-town real estate speculators. Now do you think it would be a fair proposition for us to let strangers come here, secure the best property available and get the boots?" "I do not think it would be right and many are of the same opinion, and accordingly we are trying to form a sort of stock company and if possible we will do the buying and the selling."

One of the commissioners in charge of the arrangements of the sale of the McGlone estate said a party of Providence real estate men, and in fact many from various sections of New England have written, asking information concerning the said farm, and many have signified their intention of being present at the sale.

It is expected that work will be started soon on the extension of the electric car line in South Lowell. A permit has been granted by the town of Billerica to the Bay State street railway company, and it is proposed to extend the line along Woburn street, shifting over to the Billerica road as far as the car shops. The new line will extend along the town farm and very near the McGlone farm, through the Clark property and the Conway estate.

The addition will afford a better car service for the residents of South Lowell and will also be a great accommodation to the Lowell people who will have business at the car shops, for it will only be a 20 minute ride.

Car Shops

The only building in process of construction on the B. & M. site at the present time is a lumber shed, which will be utilized for drying and storing purposes. The structure is about 100 ft. by 50 ft. and the work is progressing rapidly. There are fifty carpenters employed on the job and now they are putting on the roof. The building is being constructed of wood.

The other buildings are all roofed in and the cement floors are being installed. The shift of men has been greatly reduced and this kind of work is slowly advancing. A gang of about 75 men, employes of the Boston & Maine, are busily engaged in installing permanent railroad tracks about the premises.

It is not believed that the shops will be ready for occupancy much before the latter part of the year.

New Houses

Seven or eight apartment houses are being constructed in the vicinity of the car shops, and several parcels of land are being cleared of brush and other structures will soon be started. A large number of camps are also being erected on the banks of the Concord river, which is a most desirable spot as a summer resort. It is figured that there are nearly a thousand camps along the river and the following resorts in the town: Pinehurst, Riverdale, Riverhurst, Pinehurst annex, Manor and Nutting's pond. Several of them are already being occupied and within a few weeks all the camps will be in full swing.

A certain portion of the McGlone property is in demand for camp lots, as that particular site extends along the Concord river for a considerable distance.

Will Dredge River

Inasmuch as there is a large number of motor boats on the Concord river during the summer season, the town has decided to dredge the river and for this purpose a special appropriation was made at the last town meeting. The state has also taken the matter into consideration and will spend a certain amount in conjunction with the town. Work will be started soon. The dredging will be done from Billerica to Concord.

New Park

The park commission, Warren Manning, chairman, will soon put a shift of men at work on grading the small strip of land next to the Fordway bridge, opposite the residence of Police Officer Martin Conway. The same will be converted into a park.

Road Repairing

The Boston road between Smith's corner and Corner bridge is closed to traffic, for several men are employed in patching up the road which was in a very bad condition.

The Burlington road from the line to Billerica Centre, and the Bedford road from the line to the end of the present macadamized road will be macadamized soon.

Postmastership

A successor has not yet been appointed to succeed Mrs. Alice Maxwell, who last April resigned her position of postmistress. There are several candidates for the office, but no one seems to be able to guess who will be appointed.

Cupid Working

It is being reported that the month of June will be a very busy one among certain young women of the village, for it is said that Cupid has been at work in the northern district and no less than six charming young women will change their names in a few weeks. It is also being stated that two well known widowers of the village will make a second attempt at matrimony. This means a lot of work for the town clerk, who will be called upon to issue permits. It seems that the village "chaps" are rather slow for in most of these love cases the gentlemen are from out of town. Get busy boys and don't let the strangers grab the pretty girls as well as the desirable land.

Car Service

Some of the residents of Billerica who earn their daily bread in Lowell complain that the car service is not what it should be, especially between the hours of five and seven. On many occasions, they say, the cars are crowded to the doors, and it is often that 120 passengers or more are packed into one car. People are all anxious to get home after their day's work and inasmuch as there is only one car on the line, they crowd into the same vehicle. One or two extra cars, they claim, would relieve the traffic. Officials of the company do not seem to heed the crowding even when the passengers are crowded closer than the Humane society would allow cattle. They also complain that in the heavy rain yesterday the company rode open cars, on which the passengers were drenched.

Personals

Prof. Gookin of Cambridge delivered a very interesting lecture to a large number of mothers at the Pollard school yesterday afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. William Bollington will be pained to learn that he is seriously ill at his home in the North village.

O'Callaghan Will Allowed

BOSTON, May 29.—Judge George of the Suffolk probate court yesterday allowed the will of the late Monsignor Denis O'Callaghan of St. Augustine's church, South Boston. The will was filed April 15, and a few days later distant relatives entered appearances for the purpose of contesting the instrument. Yesterday Catherine Harwood of North Beverly, a cousin, the only remaining contestant, withdrew her appearance.

ADM. SIGSBEE TO SPEAK

At Unveiling of the Maine Monument

NEW YORK, May 29.—Rear-Admiral Sigsbee, who commanded the old battleship Maine when it was blown up in Havana harbor in 1898, was the principal figure scheduled to attend the ceremony of the unveiling of the Maine monument here on Memorial day. He is now retired and was put down on the program for a speech. It had been arranged for the Atlantic fleet, under its new commander, Rear-Admiral Charles J. Badger, to anchor in the Hudson for the unveiling. A land parade was also to be a feature of the event.

Live Bits of Sport

Miller has hit safely in eighteen consecutive games. From statistjes at hand this record looks like a new mark. If he goes along at his present clip Manager Gray will be entertaining big league scouts at every home game.

The two heavies, Jess Willard and "Gunboat" Smith did not show any signs of championship ability in their recent contest. From all accounts both men were slow and showed nothing in the way of aggressiveness except wild swings.

The University of California athletes who will make their initial appearance at intercollegiate meet, will be watched with great interest Friday and Saturday by the spectators at the stadium. Beeson, who holds records of Eno performances in the high jump and hurdle events, will especially be under observation. The Californians will arrive in Boston tonight.

It is whispered that Mr. Burkett, commonly called Jesse around the New England circuit, had his bluff called the other day down in Worcester. After Jesse had run out of gasoline through calling a few Lowell players all the pet names he could lay his tongue to, Joe Monahan stepped out of the Lowell dugout and addressed Burkett thusly: "Just go over there to the bench and keep quiet for a while, you big kid!" Everybody was thoroughly surprised when the Worcester manager, without even a backward look, did as the Lowell catcher so brusquely requested.

Joe Egan arrived in town today and took up his headquarters at the Richardson hotel. Ezan looks none the worse for his encounter with Steve Kennedy at the Boston club Tuesday night. He is a very rugged fighter but he ought to realize that he cannot continue to fight two or three battles a week and last long at the game. Bay Wood is one pugilist whom we have seen go down through overwork, and there are many more examples of what too much fighting will do for a mitt artist.

Lowell high will play Haverhill high tomorrow morning in Haverhill and a large crowd of the high school boys rooters have made arrangements to accompany the team. The boys are playing a much different brand of ball from what they started the season with and deserve all the support that can be given them.

Anderson, the new shortstop of the Lowell team, is not backward about going after a ball no matter where it is nor how hard it is hit. This kind of fielding is worth double that of the player who is always thinking of his average and who will purposely try not to touch the ball if he does not figure he can complete the play. For instance look at Hickman in the last game Portland played here. Magee put a hot one down through short and Hickman proceeds to take a few steps toward the ball and then fall down. There was absolutely no cause to which he could attribute his fall except that he did not want to have his glove come in contact with the grounder. We choose to keep a player who tries for everything, no matter if he makes twice as many errors as the opposite kind.

Jack Nolan is beginning the season like a champion, although he has not been on the links very much thus far. His work yesterday at the Vesper links when he completed his 18 holes in 71 strokes, a new record, is a remarkable performance. With the weather conditions all against him, he went over his last nine holes in 35. With a good day in his favor it would not be surprising to see this golfer knock another stroke or two off the record.

CUBS WIN GREAT GAME

Chicago-St. Louis Contest Went 17 Innings

In the longest major league game of the season Chicago defeated St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 7. The game was not decided until 17 innings had been played, although Chicago should have won the game in the ninth inning. Mitchell with two out and Chicago two runs in the lead, dropped McLean's high fly and before the third out had been made St. Louis had tied up the score. The winning run came across when Harmon passed a man in the 17th with three men on and two out. The game from start to finish, was replete with sensational plays. The score:

AN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

Ball Game, Field Sports and Boxing

The big athletic carnival of the Lowell A. C. will be held at Spaulding park tomorrow afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. The boxing numbers will come first on the program. Joe Egan who on Tuesday night won from Steve Kennedy of Lawrence will appear in the feature number, with Johnny Dohan of New York. Both are recognized lightweights and their exhibition should be a hummer.

Young Morgan of Manchester and Gus Lenney of Boston are booked for the semi-final. This pair met in Lowell several weeks ago and while Lenney had a shade the better of the bout, the experts agreed that Morgan would defeat Lenney in another battle. Friday's fray will decide how near they are right.

For the preliminary, Gardner Brooks and Jerry Lucette have been secured. Brooks is one of the cleverest youngsters ever seen in this section, while Lucente is known in Boston as a comer.

The Burkes and South Ends are in fine fettle, and an interesting contest may be looked for.

The Marathon will introduce, among othes: Joe Cristo, Chris Roddy, Billie Salmon, Jimmy Carr, Clarence Noyes, Nelson P. Dickey and O'Neil, Goddard and Doherty.

Joe Cristo is the favorite, but many aver that a dark horse will cop off the prize.

The assessments will be fifty cents, one dollar, and one dollar and a half.

SLIGHT DECLINES

NO CHANGES OF IMPORTANCE AT OPENING

Selling of Can. Pac. Weakened Other Issues—Dullness and Heaviness Featured at Noon

NEW YORK, May 29.—No changes of importance were shown at the opening of today's stock market. Smelting, Amalgamated and Reading advanced fractionally, with slight declines in Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Steel. St. Louis & San Francisco five bonds rose one point and there was a twenty point decline in distilleries securities bonds.

Steady selling of Can. Pac., which fell two points, weakened the rest of the list slightly. Some recovery ensued later but the rally was not well held.

Dullness and heaviness were the features of the stock market. The approaching holidays were mainly responsible for the restricted dealings, but the effect of the St. Louis & San Francisco receivership whose stocks fell to new low records remained as a depressing factor. Among high priced issues Can. Pacific was prominent for a further decline of two points. Weakness in minor railroad shares such as Missouri, Kansas & Texas common and preferred and Texas & Pacific suggested liquidation and bear pressure begotten of the Frisco situation.

Dullness marked the early afternoon dealings in the more prominent stocks although there was more general selling of low-priced stocks, many having made new low records.

Prices showed some disposition to improve in the latter trading but the market continued stagnant, pending the publication of a statement bearing upon the Union Pacific Southern segregation plan.

The market closed steady. Trading was of only moderate proportions during the last hour and prices fluctuated but slightly.

AMERICAN DEFEATED

Schmidt Lost to Hilton at Golf Tourney

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 29.—W. Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., was beaten today in the sixth round of the championship by H. H. Hilton of the Royal Liverpool Golf club at the nineteenth hole.

Schmidt, the 23 year old student who learned his golf while a caddie has been the sensation of the championship tournament owing to the remarkable strength and skill of his game. He met in the various rounds some of the leading golfers at the British isles but succeeded in fighting his way to the sixth round in which only eight players were left. The contest was a keen one and at the 18th hole was still a tie. The veteran then, in playing the extra hole, beat the young player and thus put the last American contestant out of the tournament. Schmidt, who worked his way through college, took his final examination early by special permission of the faculty in order to be able to proceed to Scotland to play in the championship.

Question In Ruling

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 29.—While play was proceeding in the tournament for the amateur golf championship of the world today an important question affecting any future American entries was being discussed at the annual meeting of the committee of delegates from all the Scottish, English and Irish clubs which settles the conditions governing entries for the championship. The question arose owing to the difference between the British and American systems of handicapping. While in the United States no player is rated higher than scratch in the British isles the plus system prevails. The strongest players are sometimes rated as high as "plus 6" and consequently have six strokes added to their scores in any handicap medal game.

No fear is entertained for the passengers on board the Haverford as the sea is very smooth and ample assistance is at hand.

cal writer for a New York newspaper, was the first witness today.

"As Washington correspondent," he said, "I used to go to the White House to see Mr. Roosevelt. I saw him usually alone, sometimes in the morning," and sometimes in the afternoon. I never detected the smell of liquor on his breath; never saw him in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor and never saw his manner in any way changed from its ordinary one."

"Ever go on any trips with him?"

"I was with him on his 11,000 mile swing around the circle last year, which lasted a month. I afterward joined him at Mercy hospital, Chicago, when he was shot; stayed there until he went to Oyster bay; went there with him and stayed there until election. Two weeks after he was shot in Milwaukee he went to New York on two occasions to address large mass meetings and I went with him and reported them."

"On these trips did you see much of him?"

"I saw him constantly—all hours of the day and night and never saw him take a drink or appear to be affected by liquor. Whenever he left the car I followed him."

"Did you ever see him take a drink?"

Drank at Dinners

"Only at dinners of the Gridiron club, when he had a glass of champagne in front of him. He would occasionally take a sip from it. Nearly all the time, though, he was too busy talking or watching the stunts performed. He always made a speech on these occasions and they were among the best he ever made. He always left the dinners when they were about half over to go back to the White House to his work."

Asked whether there had been any discussion in Washington of his drinking habits, the witness replied:

"I never heard it discussed during the seven years that he was there. If it were discussed it must have been outside of Washington and it was my business to know every rumor that was floating around in that city. It was what I was there for."

"Could he have got drunk on the train without you knowing it?"

"He could not have been even slightly affected by liquor without my knowing it either on the trip or at Oyster Bay."

The witness testified that on the trip to San Francisco the railroad, by order of the colonel's representatives, did not put the usual stock of liquors aboard the private car.

Mr. Thompson testified that during interviews with the then president they would sit side by side or if standing the president would put a hand on his shoulder.

Never Used Profanity

Mr. Pound asked him if Col. Roosevelt ever used profanity.

"Never."

"Did he ever use obscene language?"

"No one would dare to utter an obscene word in his presence."

On cross examination Attorney Belden asked Mr. Thompson:

"Do you know if the plaintiff keeps a stock of liquor at his home?"

"A stock of liquor is always kept at the White House by every—"

"I mean at his own home," interposed the lawyer.

"As to that, I do not know."

Andrew Abele of Irontown, Ohio, a former coal miner and later a locomotive fireman described a trip he made with Colonel Roosevelt up Lookout mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., in October, 1902.

The witness said he became acquainted with the colonel at the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Chattanooga. Later he met him at Huntington, W. Va.

"How was it you came to go up the mountain?"

"Boys, Come Along"

"The colonel was starting up and as we were talking to him he said: 'Boys, come along.'"

"You walked about the top of the mountain with him?"

"Yes."

"Did you observe whether or not he had been drinking liquor?"

"I knew he had not been drinking."

Abele said the colonel addressed the locomotive firemen's convention at Huntington and was not under the influence of liquor. The witness said as a member of a reception committee he accompanied the colonel on his train from Ironton to Portsmouth, O.

"At Portsmouth about how long a speech did Col. Roosevelt make?"

"About five or ten minutes."

"Where did you then go?"

"To Waverly. He spoke from the train five or ten minutes."

"Where next?"

"Chillicothe."

"Where did he speak?"

"In the public square about 50 minutes."

The witness told of other stops made at Hampden and Jackson.

A photograph taken at Jackson was introduced and the witness was asked if it correctly illustrated the colonel speaking and the crowd.

"It does," was the reply.

The photograph was then shown to the jurymen.

It pictured the colonel standing on the platform with arm stretched out against an upright.

"Where did you go from Jackson?"

"To Welleston."

Then exhibit four was presented, another photograph, but the witness could not remember where it was taken.

Lengthy Argument

The witness and Attorney Andrews got into a lengthy argument as to the dates 1892 and 1902. In 1892 Abele was a locomotive fireman and in 1902 he met Col. Roosevelt at Lookout mountain.

"Do you mean to say you met Col. Roosevelt in 1892 nearly a quarter of a century ago?" asked the lawyer.

"No, I do not say that," responded Abele.

"You were a fireman in 1892 and went into the shoe business that year?"

"Yes."

"Well, didn't you tell the jury that you met Col. Roosevelt as a fireman?"

"I did."

"But you quit firing in 1892 you say and met the plaintiff ten years later."

"I still maintained my membership in the Brotherhood as a fireman."

"Didn't you intend to impress the jury that you were a locomotive fireman in 1902?"

"I certainly did not."

Sharp Answers

Witness returned several sharp answers until the court ordered stricken out matter pertaining to "intention."

The next tangle concerned the exact place where Col. Roosevelt spoke at Jackson, O.

"It was a kind of park, I do not recall exactly," said the witness.

"Where was it; in the town?"

"Well, it was on the outskirts."

"Where; what street?"

"Will you let me explain?" said Abele.

"Can't you tell this jury where the park was? Jackson is a small town; you can't get lost there, can you?"

Judge Flannigan interposed to let the witness explain and the latter using a blunt forefinger traced a line along the railing in front of the witness chair and said it represented the railroad tracks.

"Now right in here there was a street or road," he said, indicating a spot on the railing as if it were a map, "and the park was there."

"But don't you remember the name of the street?"

"No, I don't, but—"

And here recess interrupted the testimony.

GEORGE M'BRIDE IS THE GREATEST OF SHORTSTOPS, SAYS GRIFFITH

"George McBride of Washington is today the greatest shortstop playing baseball. You can have your Wagners, Weavers, and the pick of all of them, but for mine I will stick to the man we have." This is the high valuation placed upon his field leader by Manager Clark Griffith. "There are men playing the position who can hit more frequently than McBride, there may be some who can field as well, and there may be some who are as wise in baseball, but in the combination of all I think there is not one who is in the same class with George. McBride works for the team's good every minute of the day. When I first went to Washington I found certain people who seemed anxious to criticise the captain, but I was certainly happy when I found that the fans were beginning to appreciate the value of the man whom I look upon as my right bower. Usually when McBride hits the hit means something, and a person would have to be pretty close to the club, attend the club meetings and follow every move on the field to know what a part the shortstop has played in lifting Washington from a joke to a real, live factor in the American league. Give me McBride and the others can have their pick of the shortstops in both leagues."

GRAND SUFFRAGE PLAY PRESENTED

MISS MARY F. DEVINE
Who Wrote Play and Took Leading Role

"A Daughter of Today" by Miss Mary F. Devine—Fine Acting by Teachers

A truly delightful play, and incidentally one of the strongest pleas ever given on behalf of woman suffrage—was produced at the Opera House last evening when Miss Mary F. Devine's four act drama, "A Daughter of Today" was given under the auspices of the Lowell teachers' organization. The house was absolutely crowded and many were disappointed in trying to secure seats as all the available tickets were purchased days before. Notwithstanding the rain, no one stayed away, and those who disregarded the severe weather were well repaid, for the play was unique as it was brilliant, and as brilliantly presented as it was unique. There can be no doubt that Miss Devine's convincing arguments converted many in the audience as well as the "governor and his council" on the stage.

The first scene of the play was the rich interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. or more properly Mrs. and Mr. Nelson King. Mr. King was disclosed busily dusting the furniture and bewailing his fate. He discovers that he is being "subjugated" and determines to assert himself. With a regal and majestic air, Mrs. Nelson King enters and interrupts his soliloquy by giving him directions as to what he is to do in the cellar, attic, and kitchen. Mr. King tries to bring his courage up to the point of protesting, but alas! one look from his stern spouse and he meekly goes on dusting the furniture. Mrs. King goes to the Ozone suffrage club after declaring herself in danger of nervous prostration, and the long suffering Mr. King takes a glorious revenge for his unfortunate "subjugation" by breaking a vase. Mr. John E. Barr made an excellent hen-pecked husband, and Miss Mirion H. Milner, as Mrs. King was perfect. By the way, she did not look unlike Mrs. Belmont, the American leader of the woman suffrage movement.

The second scene was the rooms of the Ozone Equal Suffrage club. A formal meeting is being held with an apparent regard to, but in reality a beautiful disregard of, Cushing's manual. The most important matter under discussion was the delegating of a member to speak at the meeting before the governor's council one month later. Suggestions are called for from the floor and each woman, of course, thinks that she is the only one who can perform the delicate mission with satisfaction. Mrs Stern—Miss Maria W. Roberts—makes a plea in her own behalf, claiming that as she was a masterful woman, she could hold the governor's attention with a glance. Mrs. Savage—Miss Leonora K. Battles—claimed superiority on the ground that men were her specialty, and Miss Coy—Miss Catherine M. Usher—wished to go because she had met the governor years ago at a garden party and she was perfectly sure that he held her hand a little longer than was absolutely necessary. Then came wild commotion when Mrs. King calmly arose and nominated herself. She thanked them for the honor they had conferred on her. She then gets ready to go, but before she retires she announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary King, to Paul Jonathan Blair, the son of one of the members of the governor's council, who is a well known opponent to the movement. While they are discussing the engagement Mary rushes in, and is compelled to show the ring and how it happened. This she does with naive girlishness, and the arch plotters plan to convert Paul. The comedy here was sparkling and refreshing, and Miss Devine as Mary made a good impression which was strengthened to the end of the performance.

In scene four, Mr. Paul Jonathan Blair, Mr. Abel Campbell, sits alone in his office when in sweeps the converting squad of the Ozone suffrage club, armed with guns and with colors flying. The captain, Miss Hortense Tabor, gives orders and presents arguments in a telling manner and the color bearers, Miss Charlotte C. Walsh sings a song worthy of a professional. The converting squad swells the refrain, and no one except such a stubborn individual as Paul Jonathan Blair could possibly resist. He will not be converted, however, and after escaping the guns of the indignant women, he escapes. They file out in a soldierly manner. No sooner does he return to his office than Mary enters, disguised as a militant suffragette. She uses the tongue as skilfully as the squad used the gun, but Mr. Blair, Jr. is still obdurate. Mary chases him around the office and finally declares, that she will get him yet, as she takes off her disguise and reveals herself to the astonished Paul.

Act two brings the scene of the play back to the living room of the Kings. Mary is revealed perfectly happy over her engagement and admires her ring as only a newly engaged girl can. But in comes a shadow in the portly personage of Mr. Charles Blair who declares that he wants to have quite a talk with Mary. He tells her of his disapproval of her woman suffrage activity, and puts before her the ideal characters of the Blair women who were domestic and excelled in the darning of stockings, drying of apples, and all those other accomplishments of a daughter of yesterday. But Mary, too, had an ancestress worthy of imitation, and she tells of Mary Butler of Galway who went about during the terrible Irish famine doing good, never stopping until she reached Queen Victoria and made a personal plea for the starving poor of Ireland. Mr. Blair failing to convince Mary of the folly of her ways, according to his views, pleads with her to release his son. She does so, and returns the ring.

CHARLES W. MOREY

This scene was strong and convincing, and there was not a touch of the amateur about the work of the principals. Mr. Thornton was ideal, reserved and conservative, and he spoke with an earnestness which made the character real. Mary, too, was particularly good, refraining from anything like the over-acting which is a temptation to the young actress in emotional scenes.

Then comes real excitement. Mrs. King enters and on being told of the news the nervous prostration becomes a reality and she faints away. Poor Mr. King is disconsolate. He rushes about aimlessly in dire confusion and drinks the water which is given him to bathe her brow. The doctor comes, Dr. Jones in the play, but Dr. Collins in real life, and he advises a sea trip. Mr. King expresses his willingness to take her to the ends of the earth, and after heroic efforts she recovers. One of the most amusing parts of the play was the exit. Mrs. King leaned helplessly on her grief stricken husband and the maid, but unfortunately their strength was not equal to their solicitude, so that the egress was more comical than graceful. In this scene Miss Milner was splendid. She looked the part of the nerve racked and fallen leader, and for once, she refrained from putting her worthy mate through his paces. Before Mrs. King consented to go abroad, she delegated Mary to take her place at the governor's hearing.

The third act is the strongest and best. When the curtain goes up we see the governor and his council in session. Mr. C. W. Morey was the governor and his council was the grammar masters. They are weary from listening to suffrage arguments and are not favorable. Miss Mary King, however remains to be heard, and they consent to let her appear. Before she entered Mr. Patrick Reynolds gave a splendid interpretation of a male woman suffrage advocate, while Mr. Blair—Mr. Thornton—strongly protests.

Whether regarded from the brilliancy of the lines or the finished execution, the work of Miss Devine during this scene was exceptionally fine. She began her plea in a quiet, even voice, but as the argument unfolded, the audience realized that it was being treated to an intellectual feast, and intense silence prevailed. She gradually unfolded her theme, driving home argument after argument, refuting one ad-

Something New In Travel To the Yellowstone Park

That glorious trip through the Yellowstone Park can be made this summer in unusual comfort and with added interest. Our railroad—"The Burlington"—will run a luxuriant Pullman car daily from Chicago, for 300 miles by daylight through the wonderfully beautiful valley of the Mississippi river, "The Father of Waters," and direct to Gardiner, the entrance to the park.

Furthermore, once every week we shall provide a special conductor, who will go with this car and accompany the occupants throughout the entire trip, pointing out and explaining everything of interest, and carefully looking after the comfort of our guests. No extra charge for this extra service.

May I have the privilege of telling you more, sending you maps, pictures and descriptions of the Valley and the Park (no charge)? I would like to help you plan the trip and look after the details for you. That's what I'm paid to do.

WITH THE FRATERNITIES

Buffaloes Chose Delegates to Convention

Lowell herd, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, No. 10, met last night in Odd Fellows temple with a large number of members present. Several applications for membership were received. Supreme Secretary Charles Finn of Quincy was present and spoke upon the work of the order. He said in part: "The Lowell herd was organized Dec. 5, 1912, and has a splendid membership of prominent young men of the city. The order is organized under the laws of Massachusetts and its business is conducted both by subordinate and supreme herds, most economically. It pays sick benefits and funeral expenses. The charter of the Lowell herd will probably close at the next meeting and may never open again, as the opening of the charter must be sanctioned by the supreme order." His remarks were very interesting.

During the meeting three of the members were elected to attend the supreme convention to be held in Worcester June 10 and 11. After the business a social hour was enjoyed and the following members spoke on the good of the order: Dr. Plunkett, Dr. Sawyer, E. Lyle and Charles Flannery. President W. Pendergast presided at the meeting.

A communication was received from the international brotherhood, asking them if they would affiliate with the trades and builders' union. A vote was taken and the members did not believe it advisable to join at present. Three applications for membership were read and there were two initiations. Plans are under way for an outing to be held during the month of July. P. R. Monohan presided.

James A. Garfield Post, G. A. R.

At the meeting of the James A. Garfield post, G. A. R., held last night, one application for membership was received. The return trip will be made in time for the comrades to take part in the parade to be held in the afternoon, and carriages will be provided for all those who are unable to march. POLICE DEPT. WIRES

Work of Laying Them Will Begin Soon

The work of laying a stretch of police department wires, underground, for which Mayor O'Donnell recently asked the municipal council for a loan of $1500, will begin within a few days, the requisition for the necessary cables having gone to the purchasing agent's office; and when it has been completed the greater part of Belvidere will be relieved for all time of a possible danger to life and limb that has existed for years unknown to the average citizen.

The police, telephone and alarm wires are all of low tension and individually not of great danger. The telegraph wires are of higher tension, while the electric light and street railroad wires are of extremely high tension. Should any of the low tension wires break and fall upon the wires of higher tension they would immediately become charged as highly as the others and become of great danger. On all poles the police department wires occupy the top crossarm, and, therefore, in the event of their breaking, they would necessarily strike the higher tension wires in falling and the city would be liable for any damage caused thereby. To obviate this danger to some effect, Mayor O'Donnell asked for $1500 to continue the work of placing the police wires underground, and Belvidere has been selected as the place to start the work inasmuch as the police wires are over and follow the high tension wires of the Electric Light company as they come from the power house in Perry street and run through Pond, Concord, Fayette, East Merrimack and other streets in that section. Under present conditions an officer ringing his box is liable to be killed by a shock in case of accident that would bring the low voltage wires in contact with the high.

Electrician Burns has ordered 3550 feet of six wire cable, and when the work has been completed the police department will have 68 miles of underground single wires and 42 miles still overhead. The first work of laying police wires underground was begun 17 years ago, and has been continued from time to time as the money was available.

verse allegation after another, until she had made a finished, masterly and graceful plea that could not easily be combatted. The crowning beauty of it was its womanliness. She spoke of male contempt for woman suffrage because of woman's emotional nature, and showed how that could be turned into one of its strongest arguments. She pointed out the grand ideal of the nature of woman, and showed how that ideal would work for good in the world of law. Her delivery was worthy of the eloquent appeal, and the appeal is undoubtedly one of the finest ever delivered in behalf of the woman suffrage movement. It is a foregone conclusion that she converted the governor, and if one may judge from the comments heard throughout the theatre after the act, she established a reputation for cleverness and ability that is most enviable.

The last act was a gathering up of the scattered threads. Mr. Blair, converted by her argument, pleads with Mary to take back his son, and Mary does some clever teasing. Paul returns ardent as ever and converted to the cause. It may not be amiss to say here that Mr. Campbell can make love as well as he can sell real estate. He proposed very gracefully and Mary blushed—really she did. Mary presents Paul with a pair of scarlet socks which he promises to keep, being too sacred, and too red, to wear. In the midst of the happiness Mr. and Mrs. King return from Europe and there is a grand family reunion. Mr. King, togged out in the latest fashion, admires his clever wife more than ever, and she assures him that she saw nobody just like him in Paris. They both give good advice to Paul and Mary about the mastery of the house—each thinking that the other is blind to the transaction. The curtain falls on a happy family, and shuts them out from a happy audience.

The applause throughout was frequent and generous, and Miss Devine could not hold the great number of beautiful bouquets she received. Miss Milner, too received a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Mr. Ernest McKechnie, president of the State Federation of Teachers, was on the stage as a member of the governor's council.

The play was staged under the direction of William F. Thornton.

The members of the orchestra were as follows: Miss Amy Tucke, Miss Hannah M. Barrows, Miss Goldie M. Gardner, Willford Boulger, Miss McCann, Miss Ruth Adams, Leo Bissonnette, Edmund Stearns, Master Allen, Master Lovo; Frederick O. Blunt, director, won much applause for the fine program.

NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 31, AT 2.45 O'CLOCK

A two-tenement house and about 2250 square feet of land at 23 Cady street. On the premises regardless of any condition of the weather, I shall offer for absolute sale the above property. The house, which is a two-story one, contains two tenements, having seven rooms with one, and five with the other. Toilet on floor with each tenement. The house is in good shape, inside and out. It is always rented, the present tenants paying $11 and $9 each, making a total rental of $240 per year. The lot has a good frontage on Cady street with an area of about 2250 square feet, and all fenced in. Cady street, which is located between Central and Lawrence streets, is right in a location where there is a good demand for medium priced tenements, it being convenient to so many large industries. Now, then, here is an opportunity for someone of moderate means to purchase a two-tenement house where they could occupy one and have the income of the other tenement.

Terms $200 to be paid the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Fifty to 70 per cent. can remain on mortgage at 5 per cent.

Make all inquiries of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

C. F. KEYES.

NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 31, AT 3.30 O'CLOCK

The James Birtwell property at the corner of Whipple and Swift streets, consisting of a house, stable and large carriage shed and about 6362 square feet of land. Owing to poor health, I have made up my mind to make absolute sale of my property and to dispose of my grocery and butcher business and I have placed the same in the hands of the auctioneer to be sold on the premises regardless of any condition of the weather on the day and hour advertised. The house consists of two tenements and a large store. One tenement of 13 rooms and bath, with steam heat; also a tenement of six rooms with steam heat. The store, which is located on the corner, I occupy myself, also the 13-room tenement. There is also a one-story building with a very nice store fronting on Whipple street.

The barn has three stalls and carriage room for four or five carrieges; over the carriage shed there is a large storage room finished in Georgia pine. The buildings are all in good condition inside and out.

The lot has a large frontage on Whipple and Swift streets, with an area of about 6362 square feet.

I am conducting a grocery and provision store and doing a good profitable business in the same, and I will agree to continue the business in the store until the new purchaser is ready to take possession and for some speculator who did not want to continue the business, he could easily rent the property for $75 a month. This location is a first class one, it being within five minutes' walk of the Bleachery, Bunting, Stirling, Bay State and Waterhead mills, also the Heinze Electric and Cartridge shops. This property can be seen any time by calling at the store.

Terms: $600 to be paid the auctioneer as soon as struck off. A good, liberal mortgage can remain at 5 per cent.

Per order JAMES BIRTWELL.

Fire, Smoke and Water Sale

EVERYTHING MARKED DOWN

The water damage to the stock of HATS and MILLINERY from the fire of Monday night, has been adjusted by the insurance companies in a satisfactory way.

A large part of the goods was entirely untouched by smoke or water and others only slightly soiled and can easily be made as good as ever.

We have decided to MARK EVERYTHING DOWN TO DAMAGED PRICES. These hats are of the latest styles, many of them made up for the special sale of WHITE HATS which was to have been held this week, but for this

WATER DAMAGE SALE

It makes no difference how new the style, or how perfect the hats, the prices made will be such as will sell them. This sale opened this morning, and it will be your loss if you don't buy your Summer Hat at this time.
